New Plants of Merit

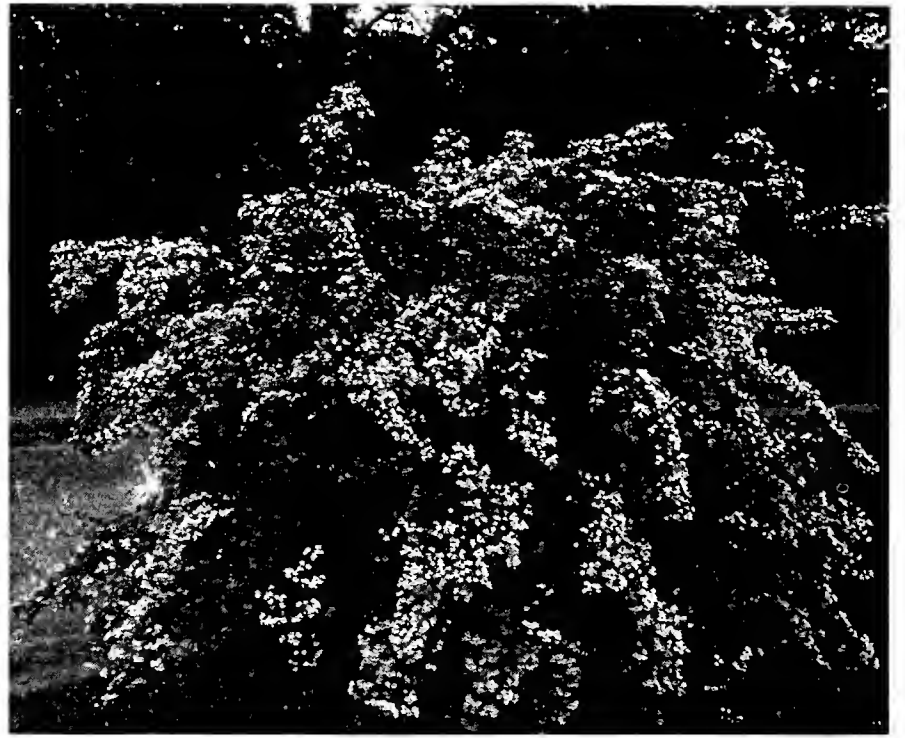

KOREAN SPIREA

(Spiraea trichocarpa)

A NEWCOMER from the Diamond Mountains of Korea, only thirteen years ago, this beautiful Spirea is still scarce and fairly difficult to obtain. Yet it has already won its way to favor, surpassing the old fashioned "Bridal Wreath" or Vanhoutte Spirea in popularity, adaptability and fine foliage.

The Korean Spirea forms a broad bush of compact rounded habit, some four to six feet tall and more in diameter, with gracefully arching outer branches. The flowers of clear white, distinctly eyed or marked at the center, are borne in clusters three to five inches broad all up and down the stems. So heavy is the flowering, that the whole bush is a fountain of arching plumes. One of the most valuable shrubs ever introduced. Highly recommended for general planting.

12 to 18 inches $1.00 each $8.00 for ten

BEAUTYBUSH

(Kolkwitzia amabilis)

RELATED to the Diervillas and Weigelas but far more beautiful, as its name implies, is the Beautybush or lovely Kolkwitzia. This exquisitely graceful shrub causes a sensation wherever it is seen in bloom for the first time. It is still so new that most people do not know it. We are fortunate in securing an especially fine stock of these new plants.

The arching branches in early June are covered for their entire length with wreaths of clear pink flowers. The blossoms are tubular with the throat and lip tinged brownish yellow. The tiny flower buds are hooded with fascinating hairy jackets which remain to decorate the seed pods. This wonderful shrub—completely hardy, attractive at all seasons is one of the most popular new plants ever introduced.

12 to 15 inches $2.00 each $17.50 for ten

ARNOLD CRAB

(Malus arnoldiana)

A HANDSOME, broad round-topped tree, sometimes twenty feet tall and as much in diameter. We consider this the showiest and most desirable of all the flowering Crabs. It appeared in the Arnold Arboretum as a seedling of the well-known Malus floribunda, which it surpasses both in size and brilliance of flowering.

The tangled branches, with slender, arching or drooping branchlets are glorious with thickly clustered flowers in May or June. The contrast of the bright rose-pink buds which change to white as they expand is singularly beautiful. Blossoms are followed by small yellowish fruit attractive to birds.

4 to 5 feet tall $3.00 each

VIOLA JERSEY GEM

(Viola cornuta hybrid)

AN outstanding new Tufted Pansy of vigorous, bushy growth, splendid for edging the hardy border or garden. The sweetly perfumed flowers of wonderfully pure bright purple are borne on long upright stems like great violets.

Jersey Gem is absolutely hardy even under difficult conditions, is not particular as to soil and succeeds in sun or shade. Very popular as a cut flower. Will remain in bloom continuously from May until October if not allowed to seed.

$.35 each $2.50 ten $20.00 hundred

TEA CRAB

(Malus theifera)

HANDSOMEST of all the many flowering Crabs according to Dr. Wilson of the Arnold Arboretum. Wands of blossoms often fifteen feet long, borne on rigid branches make this Chinese Crab Apple the very quintessence of loveliness. A small tree, seldom over 20 feet tall, with spreading rather zigzag branches densely studded with flowers from base to tip.

Each branch is a floral plume. The petals are reddish pink when fully expanded. The tiny fruits are greenish red. A feature of thickets and woodland glades in the mountains of China. Named from the fact that the Chinese dry its leaves to make a sort of red tea.

4 to 5 feet tall $3.00 each

Friendship Offers for 1930

EVERY year we offer a number of these good-will groups at popular prices to acquaint the public with the quality of Little-Tree Farms' products and to add to our roll of friends. Doorway Plantings

OF major importance is the planting immediately about the house and doorway. Every day of the year it is before our eyes—a thing of beauty or an opportunity still unrecognized.

It is impossible here to treat the subject of foundation planting fully. This page can merely show a few of the possibilities and suggest where to turn for further help in solving your problem.

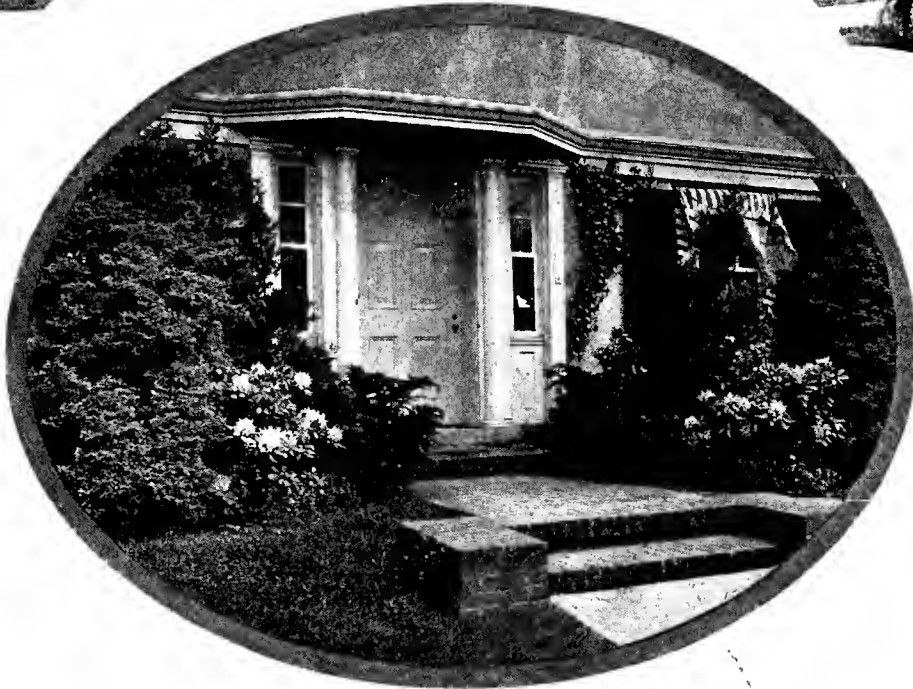

FLOWERING SHRUBS

FOR the modest home, the cottage or summer place, flowering shrubs with their wealth of color are all that can be desired. Inexpensive, and easy to care for, adapted to quite ordinary soils and conditions, they are highly satisfactory for general planting.

No other group of plant materials has been so universally used for this purpose and although evergreens are more to be desired for permanent winter effect and for greater richness of foliage, the flowering shrubs will always be in favor for their lovely blossoms.

Care should be taken that varieties are chosen whose normal habit of growth is adapted to the position for which they are intended.

For complete lists and descriptions of evergreen and flowering shrubs we offer, refer to pages 28 to 32 and to the suggestions given in the books recommended on this page.

EVERGREENS

THE increasing popularity of evergreens for foundation planting is here to stay, for no other plants offer such rich and restful beauty all the year round, such pleasing contrast of form.

Their variety of color, texture and habit of growth affords ample opportunity for creating different effects and for moulding the planting to fit the individuality of the house itself.

It is only when evergreens are rightly chosen and placed to allow for normal, healthy growth, however, that the effect is permanently satisfactory and here a knowledge of plant materials is most important. If you are not thoroughly familiar with them, it is well to be guided by the experience of others, for mistakes are both easily made and costly.

Besides consulting pages 16 to 26 of this catalogue, we recommend that you read up or talk it over with one of our landscape men before buying.

Evergreen Foundation

Offer T-19 (One side only) $31.00
(Regular Value $35.50)

A very artistic combination for the home with a low foundation. Use the Arborvitae as tall accents at each corner, with low-growing forms between to give an effect similar to that shown above. 2 offers to same address (sufficient for the entire front of a small house), $60.00.

1 American Arborvitae	4 to 5 feet
1 American Arborvitae	3 to 4 feet
3 Globe Arborvitae	18 to 24 inches
4 Ground Juniper	18 to 24 inches

"IT'S not a Home until it's Planted" is becoming a familiar slogan, for it aptly expresses the way most people feel. The first impression of your home and the one that is most remembered is that given by the front of the house. Your pride in your home, your taste, your personality all find expression here.

Whether it be evergreens grouped about the chaste Colonial doorway, or many flowering shrubs softening the bare lines of formal brick and stone, prevailing custom insists that every house have an harmonious setting. Planting is today a matter of civic pride. More and more it is an obligation to others in the community, as well as to ourselves, to have our grounds attractive and well arranged.

If yours is a new home, the front of the house should receive first attention. Let a competent landscape architect study its possibilities and plan a setting in keeping with its design as well as in accord with your desires. Then begin the work early so that the decorative plantings may soon be established to delight you this year and for many years to come.

If, on the other hand, yours is an old home, probably the trees, shrubs and flowers planted years ago need attention. Every planting should be gone over now and then and given a "beauty treatment". This may involve merely pruning, fertilizing and replacing old shrubs whose weakened growth is no longer beautiful, or it may call for a complete rearrangement with the addition of new and more interesting plants. Work of this kind is done under the direction of our Landscape Department, and we find people amazed, over and over again, at the difference expert attention makes in the appearance of their properties.

The Front Lawn

Start with the best grass seed obtainable. We recommend Little-Tree Velvet Lawn Mixture (see page 40) also the books on Lawn Making described on page 41.

A well proportioned shrub planting, easy to establish and maintain.

Fertilize Your Shrubby

A top dressing of sheep manure worked into the soil once or twice a year will stimulate more vigorous growth and give healthier foliage and more blossoms. (See page 47.)

Borders

NEXT in importance to the planting about the house foundation is the border. These two plantings more than any others give a livable atmosphere and make a house a real home. A successful border will soften bare, ugly corners on a property, will partly or wholly conceal objectionable and distracting views and will give added seclusion and interest to the grounds throughout the year.

The illustrations on this page show different types of borders and the offers make available groups of high quality material at prices considerably under those for the plants purchased separately.

On pages 42 to 46 you will find attractive garden accessories. A bird bath, fountain, sun dial, gazing globe or bench or some similar feature adds much to the interest of a border.

Shrubs and perennials make an ideal border planting along this path.

A Perennial Border

Offer T-23 $25.00

(Regular value $34.80)

Hedges

FOR defining a boundary, for keeping children on or trespassers off the property, for enclosing lawn or garden, for separating one part of the grounds from another, the hedge is excellent from both a utilitarian and an artistic standpoint. Hedges of deciduous shrubs which lose their leaves in winter grow rapidly, while evergreen hedges are slower growing but more effective the whole year round.

Scarlet and crimson leaves and fruit transform the Japanese Barberry to a flaming bit of color in the fall.

JAPANESE BARBERRY

FOLIAGE turns beautiful red and crimson in the fall. Brilliant scarlet berries hang on the bush all winter. Plant one foot apart. Makes a dense, almost impenetrable, prickly hedge. May be sheared to formal shape or allowed to grow naturally. Attractive yellow flowers in spring.

Height	10	100
18 to 24 inches	$3.50	$25.00
12 to 18 inches	2.50	20.00

ARALIA

AN excellent hedge, particularly well adapted to shady spots. Very graceful, erect, arching branches and remarkably handsome, shining green foliage. Somewhat prickly and fine for protective hedges. Improved by close shearing. Thrives unusually well under city conditions and in ordinary soil. Plant 18 inches apart.

Height	10	100
2 to 3 feet	$5.00	$40.00

BUCKTHORN

THE semi-thorny branches adapt this shrub for use in protective hedges or thickets. Clusters of white flowers are followed by black berries. Extremely hardy and decorative. Good in shady places. Plant 30 inches apart.

Height	10	100
4 to 5 feet	$6.50	$60.00
2 to 3 feet	4.00	35.00

ARBORVITAE

ONE of the most popular evergreen hedges. Dense, soft, feathery. Shears well. Plant 1 to 3 feet apart.

Height	*THREE TIMES TRANSPLANTED B&B

18 to 24 inches	$7.50	$60.00
12 to 18 inches	4.50	35.00

DOUGLAS FIR

THIS wonderful soft-foliaged evergreen shears well and makes a very pleasing hedge, for lawn or garden. Leave unshaped for a tall naturalistic hedge. Plant 2 to 3 feet apart.

Height	*THREE TIMES TRANSPLANTED B&B
	10	100
4 to 5 feet	$70.00	$650.00
3 to 4 feet	45.00	400.00
2 to 3 feet	35.00	300.00
18 to 24 inches	25.00	200.00

VANHOUTTE SPIREA

THIS charming and well-loved shrub of medium height, often called "Bridal Wreath", has beautiful, arching branches and clusters of white flowers in June. Very showy. Excellent even in shade and poor soil. Plant 3 feet apart.

Height	10	100
3 to 4 feet	$5.00	$40.00
2 to 3 feet	4.00	30.00

JAPANESE OR RUGOSA ROSE

TOUGH, vigorous, clean dark green foliage. Prickly. Deep pink or white flowers. Large red-orange fruits. Very decorative. Plant 18 inches apart. Especially good at seashore.

Height	10	100
18 to 24 inches	$6.50	$60.00

Evergreen Hedges

HEMLOCK

A GRACEFUL, handsome evergreen. Shears well. Plant 18 inches to 3 feet apart, depending on size. Will grow in partial shade.

Height	*THREE TIMES TRANSPLANTED B&B
	10	100
3 to 4 feet	$50.00	$450.00
2 to 3 feet	30.00	250.00
18 to 24 inches	20.00	175.00

JAPANESE YEW

A SUPERB low evergreen. Similar to English Box in its dark green foliage. Does not brown in winter. Slow growing and very long lived. A tough grower, resisting shade and city conditions. The aristocrat of hedge plants. Plant 1 to 2 feet apart.

Height	*THREE TIMES TRANSPLANTED B&B
	10	100
18 to 24 inches	$45.00

Long sprays of Ibotia Privet studded with myriads of blue-black berries.

IBOTA PRIVET

EXCEPTIONALLY desirable for both high and low hedges. Strong, vigorous and absolutely hardy, even in severely cold climates, where California Privet fails. Many fragrant white flowers in spring. Clusters of dark blue berries in fall. One of the best hedge plants for formal or informal use. Plant 1 foot apart.

Height	10	100
3 to 4 feet	$3.50	$20.00
2 to 3 feet	2.50	15.00

CALIFORNIA PRIVET

PERHAPS the most planted hedge plant. Inexpensive, but handsome. The foliage, borne on erect branches, is a delightful, fresh glossy green. Plant 8 inches apart.

Height	10	100
3 to 4 feet	$2.50	$15.00
2 to 3 feet	1.80	12.00

PEEGEE HYDRANGEA

VERY popular for informal hedges. The large white flowers which appear in late summer change to red and purple in fall and are very striking. Allow plenty of space for growth and cut back old wood each year for heavy flowering. Plant 30 inches or more apart.

Height	10	100
2 to 3 feet	$6.50	$60.00

WHITE PINE

IDEAL for high hedges in New England. Grows rapidly and makes a wonderfully beautiful and distinctive hedge. When sheared the growth is thicker and more impenetrable. Good color and foliage. Plant 2 to 3 feet apart.

Height	*THREE TIMES TRANSPLANTED B&B
	10	100
4 to 5 feet	$40.00	$300.00
3 to 4 feet	30.00	200.00
2 to 3 feet	20.00	150.00

WHITE SPRUCE

FOR a rugged hedge, this is excellent. Holds its color throughout the year and is cleaner and more massive if sheared occasionally. Plant 1 to 3 feet apart, depending on size.

Height	*THREE TIMES TRANSPLANTED B&B
	10	100
3 to 4 feet	$40.00	$375.00

Height	*TWICE TRANSPLANTED

Decorative Furnishings

Wall Fountain No. 78, $54.00

Distinctive One-of-a-Kind Pieces Displayed in our Exhibition Building

THINGS refreshingly different! Many cannot be duplicated elsewhere except in California, Italy, Mexico or other faraway lands from which they came.

Little-Tree Farms takes pride in gathering each year some of the choicest pieces for garden decoration. These, personally selected by our buyer who each year visits the best supply sources in this and other countries, are assembled in our Exhibition and Sales Building.

Chosen for their artistic merit, their expert workmanship and their adaptability for use in gardens of our climate, they are sure to be of special interest to you.

The selection includes flower vases, great garden vases, urns, furniture, fountain figures, and many other fascinating ornaments. Come and see them. You'll enjoy them whether you buy or not.

Girl and Fish Fountain No. 1106, $100.00

A Colorful Wall Fountain

In the small city or suburban garden where space is limited, the addition of accessory furnishings offers intriguing new possibilities. Wherever shade prevents the bright flowering of perennials a gay fountain or vase will supply the wanted color note.

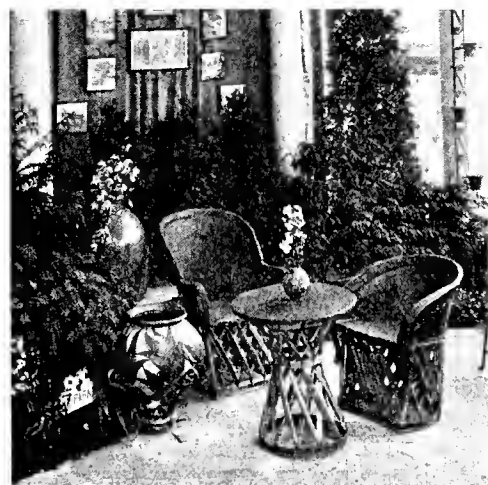

The piece illustrated above is a lovely thing for the ivy-covered wall of an intimate terrace, for the small garden or conservatory. It may be had in several exquisite colors. The design of flaring shell-shaped bowl is particularly pleasing. See further description on page 43.

For the Formal Pool

A charming figure such as the one pictured above gives the final touch needed to complete the garden picture, to emphasize the fullest beauty of the design or to center attention on a new point of interest. Place it in the middle of the pool on the lawn, the terrace or in the flower garden, or against a rich background of evergreens where its outline will appear in strong relief.

This attractive piece is typical of a number of fountains of domestic manufacture, and is made in a wide variety of attractive glazes. See page 43 for further description of this and other figures.

Patio Furniture

Lightness, durability and great decorative value—these qualities characterize most of the furniture used in gardens along the Pacific Coast.

Samples displayed in our Exhibition Building typify different styles built especially for outdoor use on the paved terrace, the open porch, the court or patio.

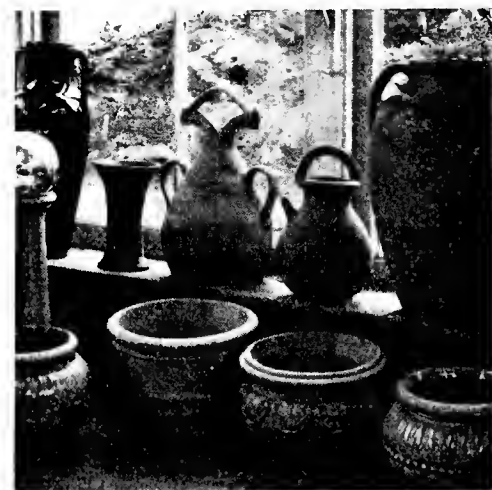

The set of chairs and tables pictured above comes from Mexico and is in the latest fashion—simply yet artistically made of beautifully grained rustic cedar with pigskin back and top.

This is an unusually effective combination which, though delightfully informal, gives real character to a garden room.

Ultra Modern!

THE very latest trend in outdoor furniture for the garden or terrace is illustrated above in the handsome pieces of hand-wrought iron. Interesting work of this kind is coming from Mexico, California and Italy, where it has long found favor, and has already gained wide popularity elsewhere.

There is the wrought iron and rawhide combination pictured here—highly decorative and comfortably cool in hot summer weather. There are wrought iron pieces with wooden or iron slats, painted in bright colors. There are charming little low lounging tables of wrought iron with gaily colored tile tops, for holding magazines, sewing or what you will, and bigger tile-topped tables more elaborately designed for serving tea. And for the porch or enclosed terrace, there are intricate wrought iron wall brackets for gay pots of vines or flowers.

Garden Pottery

Unique is our collection of garden pottery and flower vases, gathered from the ends of the earth.

Though special care has been taken to select only pieces of real artistic merit the prices are astonishingly moderate. Some are described on page 43 of the catalog. Many more may be seen in our big Exhibition Building.

Noble great terra cotta vases in glazes of various colors and smaller pots of Italian origin, huge garden jars of graceful line, many of them copies of older classic forms; wonderful Danish pottery; glassware from Sweden; primitive terra cotta bowls and water jars from Mexico—all are displayed so that selection is easy.

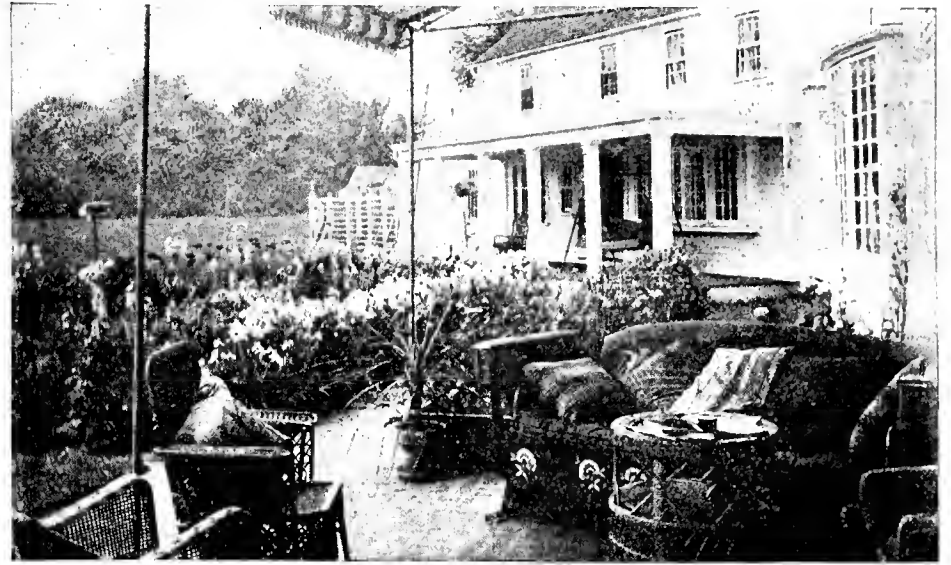

Bowl No. 46 Vase No. 111 Danish Vase No. 105 Jar No. 105 Vase No. 118 Vase No. 225 Vase No. 58

Full descriptions and prices of the pieces numbered above will be found at the top of page 46, with other pottery from California. The figured vase with its bold design is typical of much of our pottery from Denmark.

Outdoor Living-Rooms

An inviting terrace where one may bask in the sun or enjoy shade.

The spacious garden, planted by Little-Tree Farms, adds charm to this outdoor room.

For Greater Health and Happiness

IF you want to enjoy life to the very fullest plan your home grounds so that there is a comfortable place in which to live out of doors, to breathe the fresh air and relax during leisure hours. Out-of-door living rooms are possible for every home, large or small, and are a permanent investment in greater health and happiness for the entire family.

Designed for real comfort, convenience and privacy, they should be furnished attractively with the same careful attention given to furnishing rooms within the house. Instead of being confined by walls and windows the outdoor living room is open to the light and air and wherever possible is planned so there is a pleasant outlook across the lawn or garden.

A warm corner in which to lounge in the sun should be provided as well as a shaded area for work or reading. Some protection from too strong direct light and from wind and rain is usually necessary and may be supplied by a solid roof, a vine covered trellis or an awning. Terrace floors of cement, tile, brick or flagstone are most practical and dry quickly after a rain.

The Importance of Design

The outdoor living room should be closely related to the house both in location and proportions and should be considered as a room belonging to the house as well as a part of the grounds. Conveniently placed doorways, steps and paths are important.

The smaller the space available the greater the skill in design required. Detailed attention must be given to relation of doors and windows of the house, problems of screening and outlook over lawn or gardens, in order to insure permanently satisfactory results.

Where Experience Helps

In planning an outdoor living room the experience of others is of great value. An outside person with a trained eye usually sees the possibilities of a situation far more clearly than one who lives in it every day.

A landscape architect can interpret your desires and help you visualize them. When changes involve permanent construction of additional features such as walls, terraces or the remodeling of an old porch or house exit, it is especially important that plans be right. Let our Landscape Department help you with your plans.

For Recreation and Sociability

REFRESHING, indeed, are leisure moments spent quietly in outdoor surroundings such as those pictured on this page. After the confinement of house and office the opportunity to enjoy green lawns and shrubbery, a flower garden, pool or distant view brings rest and complete relaxation of mind and body. In hot, sultry weather the cooler outdoor air and stirring breezes are a particularly welcome relief.

The success of an outdoor living room depends much upon the physical arrangement and full provision must be made for every-day comfort. It is important that it be easily accessible from the main parts of the house. Easy chairs and inviting lounges with tables near by to hold favorite books, magazines, a bit of sewing, the daily paper or a cool drink—these will encourage the family to move out of doors.

For the hostess and the young people of the family an outdoor living room, comfortable and attractive, is a source of never ending pleasure and satisfaction. A place to sit out of doors and entertain your friends, will give you added pleasure in sharing your home with others.

Regarding Construction

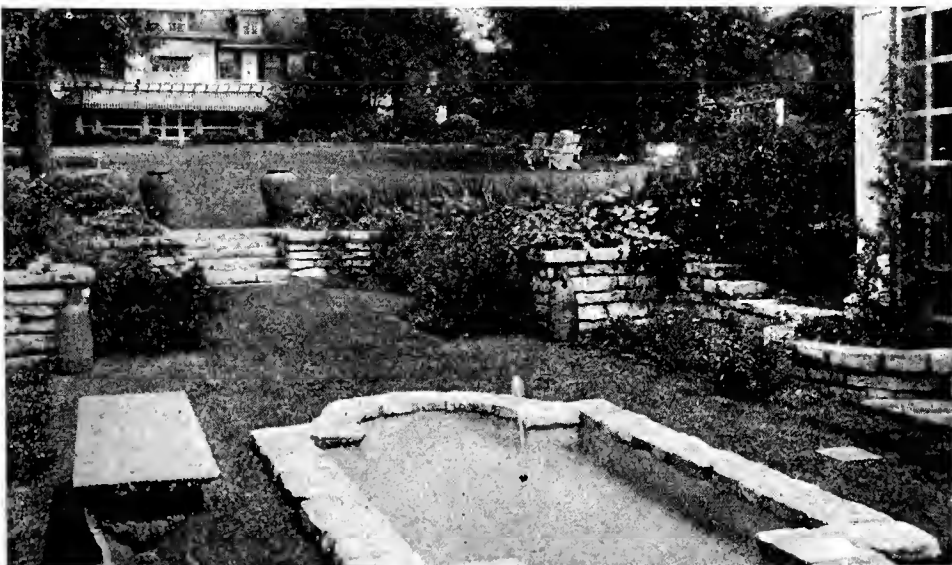

The plans for most outdoor living rooms call for more or less construction involving the addition, rearrangement or improvement of doorways, steps, paths, borders and flower beds.

The work can be carried out by a Little-Tree Service Crew, under the supervision of our experienced landscape architects. These men are skilled and competent to do your work in a thoroughly efficient manner. The greater privacy, convenience and attractiveness of your grounds will more than repay you for the small cost.

The Final Touches

After the construction work is over then comes the furnishing of the new outdoor room. We can offer you a wealth of material from which to choose. There are plant materials for those who want walls of living green. Others who prefer to combine trellises, pergolas and other features with the green will find plenty of choice pieces available.

Then, too, there are many styles of furniture gathered from our own and other countries and decorative accessories to add color and interest. See pages 10, 14, 42, 45 and 46.

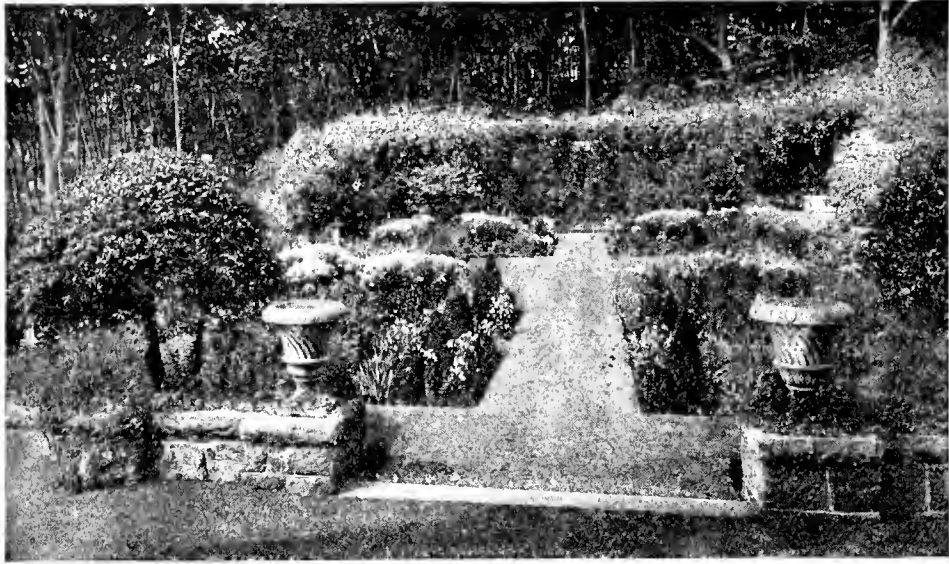

"Apartments" for different moods—the enclosed porch, chairs in the open under the shelter of a big tree, and a sunken garden full of warm sunlight.

Note how much of interest and comfort is provided in this well designed suburban back yard—a splendid example of what can be done in a small space.

Perennials for the Garden

A well designed garden—full of color and interest from early spring until fall.

A wide perennial border such as this is a constant source of delight.

ABUNDANT color from early spring until frost is the joy of a Perennial Garden. These lists will guide you in grouping plants for best effect. Perennials for the background grow 4 to 6 feet tall and should be planted 2½ to 3 feet apart. Perennials for the foreground and ground cover have good foliage as well as flowers and grow less than a foot tall; plant 8 inches apart.

Perennials for the middleground can be planted 1½ to 2 feet apart and "faced down" with low-growing varieties. Set 8 to 10 inches apart. The ground covers are pretty for broad edgings for rock gardens or protective top coverings for tulip and lily beds. For descriptions and illustrations of these and other varieties see pages 33 to 36.

A Velvet Lawn Adds to Any Garden

Smooth green turf enriches the approach to every garden, and provides a rich foil for gay colored flowers. If turf paths are provided, the very finest seed should be used. We recommend Little-Tree Velvet Lawn Mixture described on page 40.

Let Us Make Over Your Garden

Tremendous progress in gardening has been made during the last decade, both in valuable new plants and in a greater desire and provision for outdoor living. Little-Tree Farms is particularly able to work these new ideas and materials into your garden and bring it up-to-date.

Rock Gardening

WHEREVER there is a steep slope or change of level in the garden or path, there is an opportunity for rock gardening. Likewise wherever a rocky ledge crops out on the surface, and the surrounding soil is too shallow for shrubbery or grass, rock work is a natural and happy solution of the difficulty.

Many an eyesore and awkward corner, many an old dump, cellar hole or rock pile can thus be transformed into a spot of great beauty. Even poorly drained, shady corners on the north side of buildings can be made attractive by providing drainage and suitable materials.

The spirit of the rock garden is essentially natural, avoiding any appearance of artificiality or formal design. Curving beds and paths following the contour of the ground or winding around existing rocks, trees or shrubbery are most fitting. Wherever the ground is cut up by such natural features or by awkward slopes and changes of level this informal treatment is particularly pleasing.

In constructing a rock garden large weathered stones of irregular shape should be selected and placed to allow a generous pocket of good soil for the roots of each plant. This soil pocket must have proper drainage and contact with the subsoil to insure right moisture conditions. Correct placing of the stones is essential, and often difficult for the amateur. The Little-Tree Landscape Department can help you in this technical work of building the rock garden.

Most rock plants thrive in any sunny, well-drained soil. Many varieties such as the Sedums, Dianthus, and Cerastiums thrive in hot, dry sandy soil; others such as the Evergreen Shrubs and Primulas are better suited to more moist or partly shaded conditions and soil rich in humus. All the plants listed below are of easy culture.

SEEDLING BEDS AT NURSERY NO. 1

In these fertile lowlands, Little-Tree evergreens get a good start in life. Many acres are devoted to production.

A VIEW AT NURSERY NO. 2

Here are evergreen trees, shrubs and perennials all ready to dig and load on your car.

Catalogue of Plants and Materials

THE varieties offered in this catalogue represent our careful selection of ornamental plants best suited to this climate—Evergreens, Trees, Shrubs, Perennials, Roses and Vines. Under ideal conditions of fertility, intensive cultivation and scientific care, Little-Tree plants acquire splendid vitality of growth.

In addition to the many plants Little-Tree Farms is unique in offering a splendid collection of the best, most modern garden accessories and furnishings. Only a few of these can be catalogued, but many more await your inspection in our Exhibition Building.

Explanation of Grade:

Seedling:* Little evergreens dug right from the beds where they were sown and have been growing for two or more years, are "Seedlings".

Once Transplanted:* After the seedlings are transplanted to fresh soil and given plenty of room to develop for another two years, they become "once transplanted" grade. At this time both roots and tops have been thoroughly pruned to force a heavier, compacter growth.

Twice Transplanted:* After being pruned and moved a second time and thoroughly cultivated for another two-year period, the trees are graduated to "Twice Transplanted".

Thrice Transplanted B&B:*—By the time this transplanting and pruning process has been repeated three times, the evergreen is well formed, big-rooted, compact and vigorous, ready for a permanent home. Thrice transplanted trees are all shipped "B&B" which means they have a good ball of earth around the roots securely tied in burlap so that roots will not be disturbed by moving.

DIGGING SPECIMEN BLUE SPRUCE

This splendid species is one of our specialties. We have them in many sizes and of finest quality.

PACKING FOR EXPRESS SHIPMENT

Careful inspection and packing of each shipment insures its leaving the nursery in first-class condition.

Little-Tree Evergreens

Balsam Fir 4 to 5 feet $7.50

BALSAM FIR
(Abies balsamea)

THIS is the fragrant Fir of our northern woods, the true "Christmas Tree" of old, prized alike for its deep rich color and the delicious scent of its green boughs. The needles—flat and borne horizontally—are dark green with lighter green on the underside.

It is effective planted in groups, alone or with other evergreens, and contrasts well with the stiffer Spruces and Pines. Large trees, with their fine pyramidal form, make handsome specimens for lawn planting.

The Firs (Abies)

THESE extremely hardy evergreens supply grace and luxuriant softness in a landscape planting, together with symmetry of shape and varied color tone.

Their form is a symmetrical pyramid like that of the Spruces, and they have similar short needles and interesting cones, but they furnish an attractive variation in general branch structure and in foliage tone.

WHITE FIR
(Abies concolor)

THE soft silvery toned foliage of the White or Silver Fir is lovely at all seasons, but especially so in the spring when the new growth is a shimmering light green. The soft needles, long and slender, thickly cover the branches, giving the tree a depth and richness of color seldom equalled among the evergreens. Its perfect form and graceful even habit of growth make it a great favorite for both mass and specimen planting. In the foreground against darker conifers it is superb. Planted at a distance its lighter color tone gives an illusion of distance in a small space.

Our 3 to 4 foot grade of these White Firs is perfect for lawn specimens and the larger sizes are highly desirable for more immediate effect. They are all grown from the seed of Colorado trees, are absolutely hardy, and succeed even in conditions of partial shade, wet ground and exposure.

The Silver Fir is without doubt one of the very handsomest of all ornamental evergreens and deserves to be as widely planted as the Colorado Blue Spruce.

"Evergreens for the Small Place"

$1.00 By F. F. Rockwell (Postage 10c)

A real investment in better results for anyone who plants evergreens. Just the brief, practical information you need. 84 pages, illustrated. Other valuable books described on page 41.

The Douglas Fir

Pseudotsuga

ONE of the loftiest and most valuable of all the evergreens—well nigh indispensable for both utilitarian and ornamental planting—is the Douglas Fir. Known also as Douglas Spruce. Its botanical name signifies False Hemlock. It is, however, a distinct genus or family, although it resembles Spruces, Firs and Hemlocks in its pyramidal form and short needles. This evergreen is easily distinguished by the relatively long, sharp pointed winter buds.

DOUGLAS FIR
(Pseudotsuga douglasii)

ONE of the handsomest and most useful evergreens, valuable alike for its great endurance, its vitality and the varied beauty of its form. Douglas Fir grows into a tall narrow pyramid of dense, graceful habit. The close set horizontal branches, which sweep the ground or incline upward in long swaying plumes, are particularly beautiful. As the tree matures, the lower branches hold their symmetry and density offering no breaks or unevenness from the ground up, and they acquire a certain individuality of outline—some conical, some flat topped or slightly drooping,—which gives decided variety to a group planting. Each spring decks the whole tree with added beauty as the new buds break open into fresh growing tips of tender green.

Through the ages Douglas Fir has survived bitter cold, bleak winds, poor soil—all the adversities of climate and season. This makes it a superb tree to use in extensive plantings where it gives splendid shelter and protection and forms groups of great beauty.

Because of their health, vigor and adaptability, these trees are in much demand, they thrive better than most other evergreens in partial shade, in windswept corners and barren soil and they succeed surprisingly well under difficult city conditions. Because of their dense growth they make especially fine hedges, tall screens and windbreaks, and can be sheared easily to a desired shape.

Douglas Fir is distributed throughout the northwest, and there are found the hardiest forms. All Little-Tree Douglas Firs are grown from the best Rocky Mountain seed, the very finest strain obtainable.

Plant Douglas Fir as a lawn tree, too, or have it border your drive or avenue. Use groups of Douglas to shelter or border the garden, to protect drives and buildings. Mass it in open woodlands or let it fringe the edge of the woods. It is equally adapted to all of these varied purposes.

Little-Tree Velvet Lawn Grass Seed

A "sure fire" mixture that has been thoroughly tested over a long period of years under varying conditions. We can recommend it as the best seed obtainable for all ordinary conditions.

75c per pound.

See page 40.

The bushy little Douglas Fir pictured here well illustrates the extraordinary density of growth characteristic of this species.

Little-Tree Farms is the largest grower of Douglas Firs in the east. The tree shown is typical of our fine stock. 4 to 5 feet, $7.50 each.

The Cypress

Chamaecyparis

A NOBLE family of highly ornamental evergreens is the Cypress. The foliage is characteristically fine and feathery, almost fern-like, giving great delicacy of texture to the tree.

The ends of the sprays curve and droop slightly. The Cypress forms a picturesque cone-shaped tree some twenty feet in height, with irregular plumelike ascending branches.

Because of their surprising ability to make new growth, they can be sheared successfully to make hedges or use as accents in foundation planting. A light shearing once or twice during the growing season is always beneficial and keeps growth dense and uniform.

Sawara Cypress 2 to 3 feet $5.00 each

SAWARA CYPRESS

(Chamaecyparis pisifera)

THIS is one of the hardiest of the Cypress family. The graceful drooping branches are covered with soft, feathery, glossy green foliage. Pyramidal in shape, it stands shearing well and makes a beautiful specimen for formal groups or the taller accents of foundation plantings. Very desirable because of its distinction.

THREAD CYPRESS

(Chamaecyparis pisifera filifera)

AN unusually decorative Cypress, completely different from all other evergreens in its elongated, pendulous branches. The deep olive-green foliage is very fine and slender. This is a semi-dwarf variety from the Orient, and is very effective as a single specimen or contrasting with others in a group.

What could be more effective than this simple planting of tall Cedars, edged with Ground Juniper—harmonious use of the two varieties native to New England!

The Junipers

Juniperus

THIS most valuable group of evergreens furnishes the very finest material for ornamental landscape planting. The compact form of the erect growing varieties, such as Red Cedar and Irish Juniper, particularly fits them for formal use. Specimens, matched in pairs, may accent the garden design or emphasize the entrance to drive or building. Should be lightly sheared to insure dense, even growth. Several trees of this type informally grouped together will effectively break up a long border or add new interest to mass plantings.

The low-growing varieties of the Juniper family hold an unique place in landscape art. Pfitzers, Savin, and Ground Juniper are excellent for foundation planting, for bordering walks, drives and steps, or for ground cover on sandy banks and slopes.

PFITZER JUNIPER

(Juniperus chinensis pfitzeriana)

A CHOICE evergreen of medium height with spreading fan-like branches. The foliage is soft and of fine, rich, blue green color. Very hardy. Excellent for foundation planting, near windows or porch, at the doorstep, in the foreground against tall growing evergreens, or for bordering walk or drive.

The Most Authoritative Work on Evergreens

"The Cultivated Evergreens"

GROUND JUNIPER

(Juniperus communis)

ONE of the most satisfactory and best loved of the true low-growing evergreens. As its name implies, this is the Juniper common to our fields and hillsides, where it grows in great profusion. Extremely hardy and vigorous, it succeeds in the most barren and neglected soils and trying exposures. Windswept, sun-scorched rocky fields are its delight.

It is useful wherever dwarf evergreens are required and for a permanent ground cover on sloping ground, for planting along the hot south side of buildings, for use in any light sandy or gravelly soil. Prefers a sunny position.

The form varies from prostrate to erect and the foliage is light, clear green or silvery gray, often tinged with deeper brown in winter. The leaves are small and scale-like, sharp pointed and silvery beneath. Frosty blue berries in the fall.

SPINY GREEK JUNIPER

(Juniperus excelsa stricta)

A FINE slow-growing Juniper with somewhat prickly foliage of rich blue green. Broad at the base, tapering toward the top. Shear lightly and protect from winter winds to keep the foliage dense and green. A choice variety for accents, foundation work or formal planting.

IRISH JUNIPER

(Juniperus communis hibernica)

A HIGHLY decorative, slender spire of light bluish green. Very close, compact habit of growth, and somewhat irregular outline. A favorite formal accent. Contrasts with the dwarf spreading types.

Perfectly hardy in cold climates, but should be closely sheared and protected in late winter to keep the foliage at its best.

(Juniperus sabina)

A HANDSOME, low-growing evergreen with thickly foliated slender branches spreading upward from the center. Savin Juniper is one of the loveliest dwarf evergreens to use in foundation planting. It contrasts pleasantly with other low evergreens. Several plants should be grouped together for best effect.

Savin Juniper

The formal group of clipped Red Cedars makes a fitting frame for this charming wall fountain.

RED CEDAR

(Juniperus virginiana)

THIS tall, narrow Juniper is a picturesque feature of the whole New England countryside. Its slender spires climb over rocky hillsides or cluster in open pastures, in perfect harmony with the landscape.

Indifferent alike to wet ground and dry, barren soil, to the biting winds of winter and burning summer heat, it is vigorous and hardy in any sunny location.

The foliage is fine and scale-like, frequently varying in color and texture. Some branches are soft and feathery, of dark olive green, while others are harsh, prickly, and of a brighter color. Small light-blue berries frequently appear in great profusion and are very attractive to the winter birds.

The form varies from a narrow, even column to a bushy, tapering pyramid like that of the Arborvitae. No other tree native to this country so nearly approaches the Cypress of southern Europe in classic form, a characteristic which has long endeared it to lovers of beauty in our country.

The rugged, stately outline is seen to best advantage silhouetted against the sky, measuring the height of a tall building, or accenting the different levels of slope and terrace.

Red Cedars are ideally suited to a great variety of formal uses. Their height gives depth and grandeur to a broad vista and enriches the flatness of formal beds and low planting. They are superbly used as formal accents to emphasize the balance and symmetry of garden design, to mark the approach to building or drive entrance and to frame formal views.

In a long row along path or drive they give a pleasing, even rhythm of light and shadow such as is possible with a few other evergreens.

They can be used readily in a small garden, or for the tall accents about the house, as the branches do not have a wide spread nor cut off the sunlight from other plants around them. They are easily trimmed to form narrow, densely foliated trees.

The Spruces

Picea

A NOBLE family of tall growing conifers, pyramidal in form, of massive structure and extremely rugged constitution. Easily recognized by their erect conical shape, their horizontal, slightly drooping layers of branches, and their short, stiff, sharp-pointed needles arranged in whorls around the twigs.

The Spruces are superb for mass planting wherever space permits and are probably the handsomest of all evergreens for planting as individual specimens on the lawn. Little-Tree Spruces are notable for vigor of root and top, for symmetry and clear color.

WHITE SPRUCE

(Picea canadensis)

WHITE SPRUCE (illustrated above) justly considered one of America's best conifers, forms a handsome specimen somewhat smaller than the other Spruces. 30 or 40 feet tall. It is a favorite among tree-lovers as it combines great vigor and wide usefulness with marvelous beauty and distinction. It is a rapid grower, extremely hardy, and of compact conical shape, well branched to the ground. The short, shimmering light green foliage is slightly tinged with blue. It withstands exposure to salt air, pressure of snow or ice, and both heat and drought better than other varieties.

White Spruce bears shearing well and may be kept within bounds if proper care is given. Its great density, fast growth and extreme hardiness make it especially desirable as a protection from wind and storm or undesirable views. Use for borders and screens; at entrances and along drives; on lawns, for windbreaks and for hedges.

Little-Tree Farms has long been known as the headquarters for superb White Spruces, from small seedlings to the largest specimens. Carefully and scientifically grown, the trees attain maximum health, hardiness and vigor. For woods planting use the fine quality small transplants and seedlings offered at low prices.

ENGELMANN SPRUCE

(Picea engelmanni)

THIS rare Spruce (illustrated at left), a Rocky Mountain species of great hardiness, has unusual beauty of form and color. The slender spreading branches, in close whorls, form a dense pyramid.

Its bluish color suggests the Blue Spruce though the needles of the Engelmann Spruce are softer and more pliant. Many plant lovers consider it superior even to the well known Blue Spruce as it holds its lower branches better. Grows slowly. Unexcelled where a single specimen of medium height is required.

Its exceptional symmetry makes it a favorite for use in tubs and pots. Use the thrice transplanted quality for all decorative planting. The seedlings are for quantity planting or to grow on in nursery rows.

Colorado Spruces

OF all the evergreens native to this country, none have won greater popular favor than the Green and Blue Colorado Spruces. Their symmetry, fine color and texture, combined with their splendid health and vigor make them favorites for all types of landscape planting.

COLORADO SPRUCE

(Picea pungens)

MAGNIFICENT in health, vigor and hardiness, the Colorado Spruce is also one of the most strikingly beautiful and effective of all our ornamental evergreens.

Pyramidal in form, as shown in the big specimens illustrated above, this Spruce is a symmetrical cone, with full-foliaged branches extending to the ground and covered with lustrous needles of varying color tones. Some trees are clear green, with no trace of blue, others ranging through various shades of bluish green, approach the color of the Colorado Blue Spruce. The color variations are attractive and blend well.

All Little-Tree Colorado Spruces are grown from seed of the finest quality, gathered from hardy trees in the high, cold regions of the Rocky Mountains, their native home. For this reason, they can be depended on for absolute hardiness under the most trying conditions.

For ornamental plantings of all kinds, these spruces should be used freely. They are very handsome whether planted singly as specimen trees about the house and lawn, or along the drive, or grouped together in larger plantings on spacious lawns, and through the woodlands of large estates.

Use the three times transplanted grade for all ornamental plantings where quick effect is desired. The seedlings and small transplants are fine little plants for growing on into big ornamentals. All stock offered below is carefully grown of excellent quality.

COLORADO BLUE SPRUCE

(Picea pungens glauca)

THIS spruce is the bluest variant of the Colorado Spruces—the tree you mean when you ask for a "Blue Spruce." The fine specimens here offered have a beautiful silvery blue color. All of our trees are raised from seed of the "true blue" variety, gathered in the Rocky Mountains, and are individually selected for their color.

The Blue Colorado Spruces are without peer for ornamental purposes—as lawn specimens, as accents in the garden or border planting, or in pots for formal effect at the doorway or entrance.

The Blue Spruces are at their best when planted with a group of other conifers possessing variations of the same color tone such as the Silver Fir or the White, Engelmann and Colorado Spruces—or with a group of darker foliaged Douglas Firs, Pines or Hemlocks for contrast. The new growth each spring is brilliant blue. To obtain best color plant in rich garden loam.

Little-Tree Farms has long been recognized as one of the most important sources of supply for this popular evergreen.

We have shipped thousands of these beautiful trees to nurserymen and home owners. Last Fall two carloads of the largest sizes went to a nurseryman in the Middle West and many other cars contained large quantities of these magnificent trees. We still have plenty left, ranging in size from sturdy small trees 2 to 3 feet tall to big specimens for immediate effect. Each tree is grown with special care and has a good bushy top and a ball of husky roots.

Spruces Are Favorites for Pots and Tubs

BOTH the Colorado and Blue Spruces are very popular for planting in pots and tubs. Their stiff, thickly foliaged branches, their perfect symmetry even when very small, and their rich color, all make them very valuable for this purpose. Best of all they last well, enduring difficult conditions without loss of foliage or change of coloring. For doorway, hall and sunroom, they are ideal. All trees for potting are especially selected; see page 26.

Plant a Living Christmas Tree

START one now—to grow up with your children. One of these handsome Colorado Blue Spruces on your lawn, is a permanent investment in pleasure and satisfaction. It will increase in beauty from year to year, and give untold delight to you and the whole neighborhood each Christmas season, if you but decorate it with a few colored lights at dusk. Every family should have one.

The Pines

Pinus

THIS group, the largest and most important of all the evergreen families, contains some seventy different species. They are growing in fragrant beauty all over New England, out into the great northwest and far down into the sunny South. Theirs are the lines that give the distinctive aspect of freedom and grandeur to our northeastern landscapes and they are, perhaps, the most characteristic evergreen of this section.

Pines furnish not only the most important timber trees, but also the most valuable plant material for large ornamental groups. The Pines do not lose their beauty as they mature, but gain in character and picturesque appearance.

Although they live to immense age and attain great height, the Pines are also well adapted to decorative use as evergreens of medium size during their long and charming youth.

Swiss Stone Pine 2 to 3 feet $5.00 each

SWISS STONE PINE

(Pinus cembra)

A RARE semi-dwarf Alpine evergreen with deep green needles, silvery underneath. Use freely in ornamental plantings or in ornamental groups about the house and lawn. Is excellent for potting, and for accent in foundation planting. Shipped in New England only.

LIMBER PINE

(Pinus flexilis)

A PINE of wonderful color, almost as blue as the Blue Spruce. Unique as a border or lawn evergreen. Its branches reach up, and its needles surround the branchlets in a close sheath of blue green, not fringing or spraying out, but held toward the twig with charming and unusual effect. For New England only.

AUSTRIAN PINE

(Pinus nigra)

THIS hard pine is unusually rugged and picturesque with a wide spread of great branches with long, stiff, dark green needles. Its resilient structure makes it most valuable for planting under adverse conditions of sweeping wind, salt spray, poor soil and dry hilltops. Especially desirable for protective plantings around country and seaside homes where these conditions often prevail. Little-Tree Austrian Pines are strong, sturdy, well-rooted plants.

Red Pine 2 to 3 feet $3.50 each

RED PINE

(Pinus resinosa)

THE enduring qualities of Red Pine are very like those of Austrian Pine. It withstands the harshest New England winter. It grows on poor soils and near the salt spray.

This magnificent evergreen, also called Norway Pine, is the most beautiful and valuable of the hard pines, a monarch among trees. It has masses of soft, closely bunched needles, long and dark green. The trunk is rugged, straight, and has an artistic reddish color in youth, maturity and age. See illustration above.

Little-Tree Red Pines are strong, hardy trees, unexcelled for ornamental and utilitarian plantings. Plant the larger sizes along your drive, bordering your lawn or as a background for your shrub border. An ideal screen or windbreak. Note the unusually low prices below. Red Pines are extensively used for reforestation. Use smaller sizes for all woods plantings.

WHITE PINE

(Pinus strobus)

FOR sheer beauty there is no tree like the White Pine. Call it majestic, graceful, rugged, the "Living Glory of New England"; assemble all the superlatives of Song and Story; name it with the poets "The King of Trees"; these are feeble descriptions of its glorious perfection.

Plant White Pine for the exquisite grace of its soft foliated horizontal branches, the marvelous beauty of its outline against the sky and the comfortable feeling of seclusion its thick branches afford. Revel in its coolness and charm in summer; bless the protection it gives from snow and winds.

You have seen it gloriously green under winter's snow, heard it singing in the changing wind; smelled its cool fragrance in the heat of summer. Perhaps you've envied the owner of pine forests. Yet everyone who owns even a small piece of land may plant and enjoy the beauty of this evergreen.

Its rich fragrance, its lovely, soft density in youth, and its deep, clear color always make this the most appreciated of all evergreens for garden backgrounds, home groves, and plantings along drive and path.

Plant a specimen on your lawn and know the White Pine more intimately. Enjoy its soft silvery green color and spreading low-flung branches; spangle it with lights when Christmas comes; use its sprays for decoration; make an outdoor sitting room under its shade and breathe its health-giving odor.

For a compact screen or hedge, for privacy in background or to shut out objectionable views, nothing is better than our low-branched bushy White Pines. They will plant out a highway and give welcome shelter from noise and wind.

Infinitely varied are the uses of White Pine. Nature has given it the capacity to grow lustily and adapt itself harmoniously to a wide variety of man-made conditions. In partial shade or burning sun, at dry windswept corner, on steep banks, it has learned to survive without pampering.

Rapid growing and hardy, it is one of the best commercial trees for New England and is widely used for reforestation and for ornamental-pleasure woods planting.

SCOTCH PINE

(Pinus sylvestris)

A VIGOROUS fast-growing European Pine with short blue-green needles. No other pine, not even the Austrian, excels it in rugged hardiness and adaptability to the most difficult conditions of soil, climate and trying exposure.

It is equally at home on barren hilltops and mountain slopes or exposed to the salt spray of Atlantic gales; from sleet and ice storms it comes up fresh and smiling.

Full foliated when young, the Scotch Pine tends with age to adopt an artistic irregularity of outline that is the delight of the landscape gardener. It is especially good for wind and snowbreaks and protective belt plantings on poor, dry soils and in exposed locations.

It is recommended highly for utility and woods planting in poor soils and especially along the seashore of the New England States, New York and New Jersey.

For finest decorative plantings use the three times transplanted quality. For large utility plantings, including woods planting, use the once and twice transplanted grades.

Here Yews are used in front of taller evergreens

The Yew

Taxus

ARISTOCRAT among all evergreens is the Yew, one of the oldest, toughest, longest-lived trees known to man. The foliage is typically dark, almost black, with a silky, waxy sheen that gives a peculiarly rich effect.

Comparatively slow-growing as well as long lived, it is for this reason all the more valuable for permanent planting. Wherever evergreens must be kept within narrow bounds Yews are ideal.

Japanese Yew 18 to 24 inches $5.00 each

JAPANESE YEW

(Taxus cuspidata)

THE finest of all the Yews. This variety has been grown and valued for hundreds of years in the gardens of Japan. A spreading form, growing broad rather than tall, it lives for many years and is readily adapted to a wide variety of uses. There is no better evergreen for foundation planting in sun or shade, for the small city lot, for the formal garden. It shears readily to any shape desired, and makes a wonderful hedge. Unusually well adapted for permanent cemetery planting. Probably the best evergreen for a shady position.

The foliage is handsome and holds its color straight through the winter. We consider it the very best all round low evergreen for general planting.

The Arborvitae

Thuja

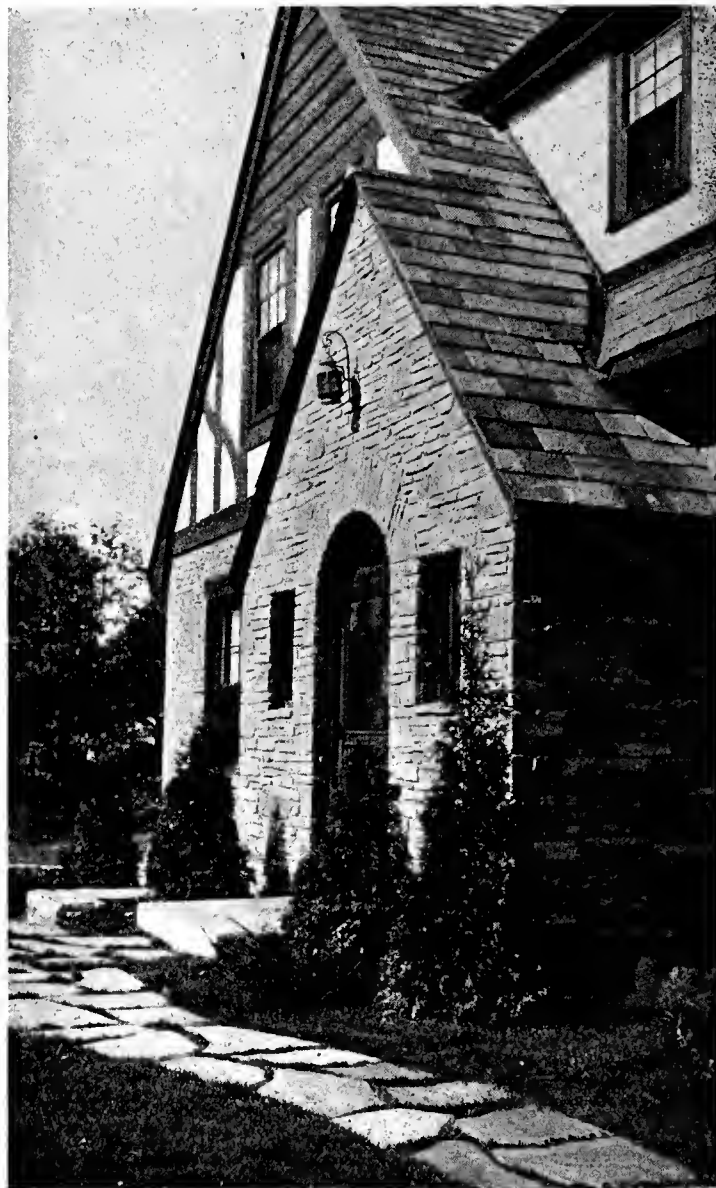

MOST frequently planted of all the evergreens is the Arborvitae or "Tree of Life." Its beautiful bright green color combined with its ability to live to a great age makes this name particularly fitting. Arborvitae are truly royal evergreens.

The foliage of all Arborvitae is scale-like and lacy. The flattened branchlets are arranged, frond-like, in flat, overlapping, horizontal sprays, and have a pleasant aromatic odor. In winter the color frequently changes to a dull brownish green, especially if the trees are fully exposed to the sun.

Symmetry of growth is typical of all the species and they require only slight shearing to give them perfect form. Since they are vigorous growers, they can be cut back readily and clipped to form hedges and other formal shapes.

The American Arborvitae is a splendid species native to this country, and perfectly hardy as far north as Canada. From it have been developed some fifty different hardy garden forms, varying in character and size from the tall narrow pyramidal form to a low broad globe such as Tom Thumb. These varieties are all favorites particularly in the colder regions, while the true American type is much used for extensive hedges and shelter plantations.

AMERICAN ARBORVITAE

(Thuja occidentalis)

A WONDERFUL evergreen, hardy and dependable in almost any situation, thriving even in wet places and partial shade, although it does best in full sun. The foliage is soft and of deep green color. Trimming, which it stands exceptionally well, tends to make growth denser and more compact.

Many fine old trees in our New England countryside bear witness not only to the long life and great beauty of this evergreen, but to its suitability for planting as lawn specimens, in thick hedges or sheltering backgrounds or as tall accents about house and garden—the very same purposes for which Arborvitae are most used today.

The Hemlock

Tsuga

A WONDERFULLY graceful evergreen is this "lady of our woods" with richly toned foliage and wide spreading, drooping boughs. The needles of rich, dark green, lined with silver, are short and blunt and are carried horizontally on slender branchlets, giving the entire tree the lightness and charm peculiar to this species.

CANADA HEMLOCK

(Tsuga canadensis)

THE Canada or American Hemlock is an evergreen tree of rare charm, a native of our northern woods. It thrives naturally in semi-shaded conditions, on northerly slopes and cold damp gorges, and prefers damp rich soil and partial shelter from the high winds and hot sun of late winter. In such spots it develops to its fullest luxuriance of foliage and form. Extremes of either too dry or too wet situations, however, are not to its liking.

Because of its preference for such conditions, as well as for its beauty of form, Hemlock is often the first choice of landscape artists for woodland plantings, for shady corners with northerly exposure and for underplanting among other trees.

It grows naturally into a tall irregular pyramid with the lower branches sweeping the ground. It is even more beautiful in winter when the branches bend still further beneath their weight of snow and the feathery needles are completely outlined in all their delicacy.

Hemlock responds readily to shearing and quickly becomes dense and compact. When kept pruned it forms a rich impenetrable wall of soft even textured foliage, holding well the outline desired. A well grown Hemlock hedge is a source of lasting satisfaction and is exceedingly beautiful.

For small lawns it is one of the most satisfactory evergreens, content with sun part of the day. It can be recommended, also, for foundation planting if it is judiciously placed and kept within bounds by a little shearing each season. Very lovely for informal border planting.

(Canada Hemlock Continued)

Mountain Laurel
18 to 24 inches
$3.00 each

MOUNTAIN LAUREL (Kalmia latifolia)

ONE of the finest and most decorative of our American shrubs. Native throughout the open woods and hillsides of the Eastern United States. The center illustration above shows a broad border of Laurel on the north slope of Hemlock Hill in the Arnold Arboretum, Boston. The long narrow leaves are smooth and glossy and are much used for winter decorations. Abundant large clusters of beautiful white or rose-tinted flowers appear in June. A splendid shrub of medium size for shady places, foundation planting, paths, drives and open woods. Requires a well-drained acid soil, and is equally at home in moist or dry places, sun or shade. Very hardy.

Little-Tree Evergreen Shrubs

A MOST valuable group of large and small shrubs characterized by broad green leaves which remain throughout the winter. Many of them flower or fruit profusely and the glossy foliage and bright blossoms or berries contrast pleasingly with the more sombre coniferous evergreens. Most of these shrubs prefer acid soil and some shade. Mix granulated Peat Moss, described on page 47, with the soil in planting and use, also, as a mulch.

A spray of Rose Daphne

ROSE DAPHNE (Daphne cneorum)

A CHARMING little evergreen prized for its deliciously fragrant rose-pink flowers. Blooms profusely in June and more sparsely throughout the summer. Grows about one foot tall and has fine light green foliage. Particularly good for rockeries and shrub borders. Give rich soil and winter protection.

Orange fruit and rich green foliage of the Bigleaf Winter Creeper

BIGLEAF WINTERCREEPER (Euonymus radicans vegeta)

THE Evergreen Bittersweet, which flowers and fruits freely. The small inconspicuous clusters of white flowers are followed by brilliant orange-yellow berries in the fall, very similar to our American Bittersweet, and particularly handsome among the glossy green foliage. The most bushy and vigorous of all Wintercreepers. Large roundish leaves. It clings to any rough surface, and is splendid on brick or stone walls. Lovely in rock gardens.

Grade	Each	10	100
8 to 12 inches	$1.00	$8.00	$70.00

WINTERCREEPER (Euonymus)

THE very best and most useful of the broadleaved evergreens, hardy in New England, are the Wintercreepers or Evergreen Bittersweets. The thickly borne foliage is handsome at all seasons of the year. They are typically low shrubs or climbing vines which root as they spread over the ground forming dense carpets.

Our finest hardy substitute for both English Ivy and Box. It is easily trained as a vine over stone, brick and wood, as illustrated above, and may be grown over strong wire or netting for a very narrow evergreen screen or hedge.

Winter Creeper beautifully clothes the trunks of trees, clinging by rootlets and frequently reaching twenty or thirty feet in height. It forms a handsome bush or hedge, well worth the trouble of shearing while young. An admirable plant for the north side of buildings, for ground cover and for slopes or banks. The best varieties are offered here.

RHODODENDRONS

THIS group is in the forefront of the hardy ornamental shrubs. The plants are characterized by enormous broad leaves, and large clusters of handsome big flowers in June.

By nature the Rhododendrons are woodland plants, delighting in situations screened from the morning sun and from cold cutting winds in late winter. The roots which are very near the surface should be kept cool and damp and never allowed to dry out. For this reason, a soil moist and porous, fairly rich in leaf mold, humus or peat is ideal and a mulch of leaves or peat moss (see page 47) is always a wise precaution.

Rhododendrons are much used for planting along drives and paths and for massing and underplanting in pleasure woods. They are especially adapted for planting in shady places, such as the north sides of buildings, and among other trees in the border or garden background. They love shade and acid soil, but can be grown in sun if the roots are kept damp and they are protected from strong winds in winter and early spring.

Evergreen shrubs are ideal for the shady corner

CATAWBA RHODODENDRON

(Rhododendron catawbiense)

DESERVEDLY popular is this handsome Rhododendron, of medium size. The shrubs broad rather than tall reach a height of 6 feet.

The long leaves are rich and lustrous dark green. It flowers somewhat later in June than the other varieties, with great round clusters of rosy lavender-purple blossoms.

This Rhododendron grows wild on the mountain sides of our southern states from Virginia to Georgia and is one of the shrubs best adapted for planting in large groups. Excellent for foundation planting and shady corners.

Perennials border this formal walk.

Little-Tree Perennials

NEVER more popular than today, hardy perennials with their abundance of color and sequence of bloom from early spring until frost, are the joy of every garden, be it large or small.

Below are listed some 130 varieties which we consider the most desirable and satisfactory for vigor of growth, for general attractiveness of foliage, habit and flowering, and for hardiness. Little-Tree two-year-old, field-grown clumps are sure to please you. Iris, Peonies and bulbs are on pages 37 and 39.

A formal perennial garden.

THE PEARL Achillea ptarmica

Profuse double flowers of pure white, borne in dense heads. Narrow, finely toothed, clean foliage and free graceful habit of growth. Splendid for cutting and for the border in sun or shade. Frequently used in cemeteries and rock gardens. Blooms all summer. 1½ feet tall.
Each $.30 10-$2.50 100-$17.00

PERRY WHITE Achillea ptarmica

A choice new variety which has larger, pure white flowers over an inch across, with broad overlapping petals. Nothing better for cutting. Blooms continuously from June until September.
Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$20.00

AZURE MONKSHOOD Aconitum autumnale fischeri

One of the finest autumn blooming perennials. The large bold spikes of hooded flowers from which it takes its name, are a marvelous rich clear blue and appear in September and October. Excellent for cutting, thrives in sun and shade. 18 inches tall.
Each $.50 10-$4.50 100-$27.00

HOLLYHOCK Althaea rosea

This old garden favorite is much admired for its tall stately stalks, richly covered with large single or double flowers in July and August.

One of the very best perennials for the background of the flower border or to hide unsightly places. Grows 5 to 8 feet.

The single variety is especially lovely—each blossom a perfect rosette of color.

The double form has showier blooms of heavy substance. Both double or single in great variety of colors.

Each $.30 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

DWARF GOLDENTUFT Alyssum saxatile compactum

Large compact masses of golden flowers in May. Grayish green leaves. One of the best perennials for the rock garden. Easy to grow. Forms broad masses a foot tall.

Each $.30 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

DROPMORE BUGLOSS Anchusa italica

Cannot be surpassed for producing a tall mass of exquisite forget-me-not blue flowers in early June. Will continue flowering if not allowed to seed. 4 feet. Treat as biennial.
Each $.30 10-$2.50 100-$20.00

EARLY ANEMONE Anemone hepatica

A very hardy Anemone from central China with pleasing mauve-rose flowers about 1½ inches across, from early August to late fall. 1 foot.
Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$20.00

JAPANESE ANEMONE Anemone japonica alba

Extremely valuable for late bloom, extending from August until November. Grows 2 to 3 feet tall, with large pure white flowers 2 inches across, with yellow centers. Does well in partial shade or full sun. Very handsome in masses or grown as single specimens. Lovely for cutting. Plant in spring only and cover in winter.
Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$20.00

WILD SENNA Cassia marilandica

Produces clusters of yellow, pea-shaped flowers with black centers in June and July. Very smooth, handsome fern-like foliage. Wonderful for backgrounds where the contrast with other perennials is delightful. 3 to 4 feet tall.
Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$20.00

PERSIAN CENTAUREA
Centaurea dealbata

Large, striking rose pink flowers from June to August. An attractive perennial all through the season. Grows 18 to 24 inches tall and is very compact. Makes a fine display in the border. Excellent for cutting. Birds are fond of the seeds.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

STARRY CERASTIUM
Cerastium arvense

A low creeping perennial with soft, downy, silvery foliage and a profusion of pure white flowers very early in June. Forms a broad, spreading mat. Excellent for rockeries or steep banks.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

SNOW-IN-SUMMER
Cerastium tomentosum

Similar to the above, but blooms a little later and has larger flowers. One of the loveliest gray-foliaged plants for contrast with deeper greens. For border or rockery. Quickly spreads to form a broad mat.

Each $.30 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

LARPENTE PLUMBAGO
Ceratostigma plumbaginoides

One of the most desirable late blooming perennials for the rock garden or for edging the border. It grows 8 inches tall, is of dwarf spreading habit and has masses of dark green foliage covered with deep blue flowers from summer until frost.

Each $.40 10-$3.00 100-$25.00

HARDY CHRYSANTHEMUM
Chrysanthemum

THESE are the glory of the autumn garden, filling it with colorful bloom through October and November, long after other flowers have gone. Chrysanthemums insist upon good drainage and are perfectly hardy in well drained situations. The large flowering sorts should be planted against the house or wall or among shrubbery rather than in the open, as this protects the opening buds from severe frosts and assures earlier and more perfect blooms. After they are through flowering, cut back to the ground and cover with leaves. Pot-grown plants for spring shipment.

Autumn Glow

Large flowers, deep yellow center with many rich pink petals deepening to a distinct reddish tone at tips.

Boston

Glowing bronzy orange blossoms, 1 1/2 inches across, on tall branched stems.

Bronze Button

An old-fashioned favorite, extremely free flowering. Small blossoms which stand frost well. Rich red bronze. Dwarf habit.

Eva

Fairly large flowers of soft pink. Medium dwarf habit.

Glory of Seven Oaks

An early bloomer of rather dwarf habit. Clear canary yellow. One of the best.

Mrs. Francis Bergen

The largest and finest white, 3 to 4 inches across. Soft creamy center, fading to pure white, faintly flushed with flesh pink at the tips. Broad, curving petals of perfect shape.

Oconto

Handsome, large, full blossoms of pure white with yellow center.

Each $.35 10-$2.40 100-$18.00

SHASTA DAISY
Chrysanthemum maximum

Large glistening flowers with yellow centers and long white petals of wonderful texture, borne on sturdy stems 2 feet tall. Fine for picking. The foliage is handsome, glossy green. Vigorous grower succeeding in sun or shade. Blooms over a long season if not allowed to seed.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$17.00

LILY-OF-THE-VALLEY
Convallaria majalis

Everyone knows and wants this delightfully fragrant little favorite. Its delicate white bell-shaped flowers appear in May and June. One of the best plants for shady spots and for a ground cover under trees. Spreads by underground runners, forming a solid carpet. 8 inches tall. We offer well established clumps.

Each $.50 10-$4.50 100-$40.00

Similar to Big Coreopsis but with narrower leaves and slightly smaller flowers. Very prolific.

Each $.30 10-$2.20 100-$15.00

MOSQUITO-TRAP
Cynanchum acuminatifolium

This very interesting small plant has lasting foliage and pure white, small waxy flowers in May and June. 18 inches.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

HARDY LARKSPUR
Delphinium

One of the most beautiful of all hardy plants, and an old favorite. The rich blue flowers come in June and July, and will bear a second or third crop of bloom if cut back and not allowed to seed.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

Belladonna, Light Blue Larkspur

An exquisite sky-blue form of larkspur, perfectly hardy, with tall strong spikes of blossom. Extra fine for cutting and the most popular light blue variety. 5 feet tall.

Bellamosum, Blue Larkspur

A companion form similar to the above, but of clear, dark blue. A splendid new variety. An improved form of Delphinium formosum, but stronger and less liable to mildew.

Gold Medal Hybrids, Larkspur

These include a great variety of colors and forms, varying from the palest sky-blue tints through the deep blues, indigos and purples with intervening shades of mauve and lavender alone or in combination, in both double and single types. 3 to 6 feet.

Slender Larkspur

Delphinium grandiflorum chinense
This very hardy species from Siberia is the little sister of the family, growing 12 to 18 inches tall. Foliage is fine and feathery. Flowers of intense gentian blue, are borne lightly on slender stems. Blooms all summer, exquisite for cutting.

White Siberian Larkspur

A white form of the Slender Larkspur, somewhat more robust in habit of growth.

SWEET WILLIAM
Dianthus barbatus

A quaint, old-fashioned posy from grandmother's garden, bearing, in early June, great masses of bloom on stout stems a foot tall, white rose, pink, red and crimson, ringed or eyed at the center.

Plant in masses where it will seed itself.

Each $.30 10-$2.20 100-$15.00

MAIDEN PINK
Dianthus deltoides

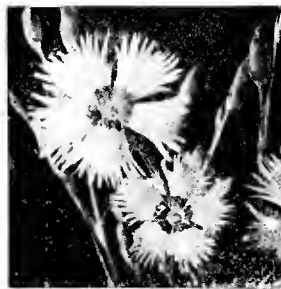

Myriads of miniature, bright pink flowers spring from rosettes of narrow, threadlike leaves in May and June and again more sparingly in the autumn. An exceptionally fine rock plant, forming a low spreading mass of slender foliage. Good for the foreground. 6 inches.

Each $.30 10-$2.20 100-$15.00

GRASS OR CLOVE PINK
Dianthus plumarius

Handsome blue foliage which forms pretty, grasslike tufts. In May and June many fragrant flowers, ranging from pink and white to red. 8 inches. For edging, for rockeries, walls and terraces.

Each $.30 10-$2.20 100-$15.00

PLUMY BLEEDING HEART
Dicentra eximia

A dwarf growing perennial with beautiful finely cut, fern-like foliage and showy racemes of pretty, drooping pink flowers all summer long. Grows under practically any conditions. 2 feet.

Each $.40 10-$2.70 100-$45.00

BLEEDING HEART
Dicentra spectabilis

Rosy red, heart-shaped flowers with white petals protruding, hanging in a row from slender arching stems. Blooms May to July. Desirable for planting in shade. 2 feet.

Each $.60 10-$5.50 100-$45.00

YELLOW FOXGLOVE
Digitalis ambigua

Two to three foot spikes of light yellow flowers in July, and frequently again in the autumn. Foliage good green until late fall.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

FOXGLOVE
Digitalis purpurea

Tall spikes of bell-shaped flowers, ranging from pink and white to purple with spotted throat, are borne in July and August. An old-fashioned favorite of state-ly beauty. 2 to 4 feet tall. Stands partial shade well. A biennial, often seeds itself.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

CYPRESS SPURGE
Euphorbia cyparissias

A very fine rock garden plant growing 6 to 8 inches tall and making little formal clumps almost like miniature evergreens. It has narrow gray-green leaves, which in autumn turn wonderful shades of pink and orange. Very desirable for edging and massing.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$20.00

DROPWORT
Filipendula hexapetala

Flowers like beautiful, feathery, creamy white plumes, often tinged with red, are borne on slender stems 1 to 2 feet tall in June and July. An unusually pretty variety for border or rock garden, forming a great rosette of long, finely cut, fern-like leaves. Attractive all season. Splendid for cut flowers.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

PERENNIAL GAILLARDIA
Gaillardia aristata

Handsome dark-red flowers, like big daisies with dark brown centers ringed with orange and crimson. Grows 2 feet tall, and blooms from June until November. Long stems, lasts well as a cut flower.

Each $.35 10-$2.50

$00-$17.00

DOUBLE CRIMSON AVENS

A dwarf plant with deep scarlet flowers from June until September. Most useful for mass planting, border and rock gardens.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

BABYSBREATH
Gypsophila paniculata

The name implies the extreme delicacy and daintiness of this charming flower. Forms a broad, well-branched bush 2 feet tall, which is covered with tiny white flowers like a fine mist during July and August. Grows in dry places and poor soils. Prized for cutting.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

BRISTOL FAIRY BABYSBREATH
Gypsophila paniculata Bristol Fairy

An improved variety of Babysbreath bearing a profusion of slightly larger, double flowers, which transform the entire plant into a soft mass of white blossoms. A great favorite for picking with other cut flowers. July and August.

Each $.60 10-$5.00 100-$45.00

SNEEZEWEED
Helenium autumnale

A homely name for a gay, decorative flower. Showy, golden yellow blooms, continuing from late August to October. Beautiful with shrubs or at back of the perennial border. Stands partial shade. 4 to 6 feet tall. One of the best for fall color.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

For quick selection of varieties refer to lists of Perennials for the Garden and Rock Garden on pages 14 and 15.

Our prices include packing and are f. o. b. Framingham

SNEEZEWEED

(Helenium autumnale superbum)

See illustration at bottom of opposite page. One of the showiest forms of Sneezeweed with great, handsome yellow flowers two to three inches across. Begins to flower about the middle of August and continues until frost. An exceptionally fine fall-flowering perennial for cutting, because of its rich color and lasting qualities.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

RIVERTON GEM SNEEZEWEED

(Helenium Riverton Gem)

A jewel, as the name implies. Striking, large, daisy-like flowers of rich crimson, which on opening are old gold suffused with bright terra cotta, gradually changing mahogany red. A most unusual and effective color which combines well with the blue of Salvia azurea or Aster Climax.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

SUNROSE

(Helianthemum chamaecistus)

A low-growing perennial with almost evergreen leaves and trailing, wiry stems. Forms broad clumps which are covered with masses of salmon pink bloom from July to September. A fine plant for ground cover or rock garden.

Each $.35 10-$3.00 100-$20.00

WOLLEY DOD SUNFLOWER

(Helianthus scaberrimus)

This perennial Sunflower is most effective when planted in bold masses where it may have plenty of room. Naturalize it in the shrubby border, against a background of evergreens or in the open woodland. It soon spreads to form a big clump and will last for years without attention. Large flowers of bright yellow in profusion during September. A pretty variety for picking. Makes a fine screen or background for the border. 6 feet tall.

Each $.30 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

EARLY DAYLILY

(Heemerocallis dumortieri)

The earliest of the Daylilies. Handsome, bright orange flowers in May and June. Graceful, narrow foliage, decorative until late fall. Grows 2 feet tall. An excellent perennial for picking as it lasts a long time.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

LEMON DAYLILY

(Heemerocallis flava)

This stately daylily on tall erect stems is very sweetly scented. Makes a charming cut flower. Its long, narrow leaves and exquisite golden-yellow flowers are showy in garden or border during June.

Each $.35 10-$3.00 100-$20.00

JAPANESE DAYLILY

(Heemerocallis thunbergi)

This is much like the Lemon Daylily except that it is taller and flowers a month or two later, in August. A very desirable perennial for mid-summer bloom. Easily grown in any good garden soil. Will stand slight shade.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

DAMES ROCKET

(Hesperis matronalis)

Very sweet white or lavender flowers in showy spikes from May to July. Splendid for the wild garden or shady border or for giving color to the shrub border. Good for cutting. One of the most fragrant old-fashioned flowers. Easy to grow.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$20.00

CORALBELLS

(Heuchera sanguinea)

A most charming perennial for the rock garden or border. Exquisite for cutting. The broad, rounded evergreen leaves are unusually handsome and a striking foil for the slender, airy spikes of tiny coral blossoms. June to September.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$20.00

Naturalize these in the Shrub Border

These tough growing, strong rooting perennials will bloom and thrive for years without attention.

VARIEGATED PLANTAINLILY

(Hosta lanceolata variegata)

The variegated green and white leaves are most attractive. Blue flowers in June and July. An especially handsome plant for edging or for formal planting. Good in shade.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

PLANTAINLILY

(Hosta sieboldiana)

One of the easiest plants to grow. Forms broad low masses of interesting foliage. Succeeds in either sun or shade. Blue flowers are borne on stems 1 1/2 feet tall in late summer. Attractive for edging the border or for filling in around trees

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$20.00

EVERGREEN CANDYTUFT

(Iberis sempervirens)

An indispensable rock garden perennial growing into wide mats of handsome evergreen foliage. Clusters of pure white flowers in May.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

BONFIRE TORCHLILY

(Kniphofia uvaria pfitzeriana)

Also called "Red Hot Poker". A free and continuous bloomer from August to October. 3 to 4 feet. Large spikes of conspicuous scarlet-orange flowers. Effective in the border or against shrubbery. The rosette of long, narrow leaves gives a rich tropical effect.

Each $.50 10-$4.00 100-$30.00

TRUE LAVENDER

(Lavendula officinalis)

The fragrant silver-gray foliage was much prized by housewives of old who used it to scent their linen. Lavender blue flowers are produced from July to September. 6 to 8 inches. A choice perennial for contrast or edging.

Each $.40 10-$3.50 100-$25.00

CATTAIL GAYFEATHER

(Liatris pycnostachya)

Also known as Blazing Star. Great rocket-like spikes of pale rosy-purple flowers open over a long period, lasting well from August to October. Pretty, narrow foliage. Very striking massed in the border or background. Attracts attention because of its interesting form and the fondness which butterflies have for it. 3 to 4 feet tall.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

CARDINAL FLOWER

(Lobelia cardinalis)

One of the most beautiful of all crimson flowers. Though a native of wet places, its 2 to 3 foot spikes develop equally well in the garden and bring flaming beauty to dull corners. July and August.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

WASHINGTON LUPINE

(Lupinus polyphyllus)

Beautiful long spikes of pea-shaped deep blue flowers on 3-foot stems. Most effective in borders or in masses along ponds and streams. Excellent for cutting. Grows well in partial shade. May and June. Prefers rich moist soil and should be watered in dry weather.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

BLUSH LUPINE

(Lupinus polyphyllus roseus)

Like Washington Lupine, with rosy pink flowers on tall spikes in May and June.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

MALTESE CROSS

(Lychnis chalconica)

Often called Jerusalem Cross or Scarlet Lighting. One of the most brilliant old-fashioned perennials. Large flat heads of vivid scarlet flowers, borne on stems 2 to 3 feet tall, last from June to August. A glowing color against green backgrounds. Good for cutting.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

Royal Scarlet
Scarlet with black center.
Each $.50 10-$4.00 100-$30.00

PHLOX

(Phlox)

Phlox are most effective plants for late summer and fall gardens. Great variety in color and a wealth of bloom from July till late October is offered in the list below. They require plenty of water during the blooming period. Divide every few years.

Antonin Mercie

Large flowers. Clear lilac, white eye. Early.

Beacon

Brilliant cherry red. Mid-season to late.

Coquelicot

Brilliant scarlet. Mid-season. Very effective.

Czarina

Large heads of pearly white flowers. Late. Extra choice and desirable.

Eclairer

Large amaranth red flowers, deep eye with lighter halo. Early.

Elizabeth Campbell

Choice, large flowers of bright salmon pink and darker red eye. Mid-season.

Richard Wallace

White with violet eye. Mid-season to late.

Rijnstrom

A grand new phlox with immense flower heads of clear lively rose pink. A strong grower.

Stella Choice

Large milk white flowers flushed with lavender on the underside. Large. Vigorous.

Thor

A beautiful lively shade of deep salmon pink, suffused and overlaid with scarlet glow. Red eye. A superb variety, vigorous.
Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$20.00

MISS LINGARD PHLOX
(Phlox suffruticosa)

A particularly free-blooming standard phlox for the perennial or shrub border. Handsome dark glossy foliage and great tall rich heads of glistening white flowers. The individual florets are very large with faint lilac eye. An invaluable variety as it comes into flower late in June, fully six weeks earlier than the other varieties, and continues throughout the season.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$20.00

DWARF PHLOX

Indispensable in the rock garden; for naturalistic plantings; for covering steep slopes on banks, and for edgings.

All varieties grow and spread rapidly, forming thick carpets of bloom. The effect is particularly showy in early spring for this group of perennials furnishes sheets of color at a time when few other plants are in bloom.

Use this in quantity for rich effect, setting the clumps 8 to 10 inches apart. Strong field-grown plants. Five varieties offered below.

AMOENA PHLOX
(Phlox amoena)

A pretty variety to use for contrast with the creeping forms. The soft foliage spreads to form a big clump. When spring comes the tidy rosettes of green leaves throw up dense heads of bright pink flowers on erect stems 6 to 8 inches tall.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

BLUE PHLOX
(Phlox divaricata laphami)

April and May see this beauty in full glory. No blue in the spring garden compares with it. An improved form of the phlox which carpets woodland glades in the mid-west with sheets of starchy lavender-blue flowers. Combines well with any color. Foliage frequently turns dull bronzed or orange in the fall.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$20.00

MOSS PHLOX
(Phlox subulata)

The trailing stems lie close to the ground, and, in April and May, bear great sheets of pink flowers. Excellent for the rock garden or for covering slopes.

Each $.25 10-$2.00 100-$15.00

WHITE MOSS PHLOX
(Phlox subulata alba)

A neat growing form of the above with handsome mossy foliage of clear fresh green and masses of pure white flowers. Very desirable for ground covers, edging or rock gardens.

Each $.25 10-$2.00 100-$15.00

LAVENDER DWARF PHLOX
(Phlox subulata lilacina)

A lovely soft pastel shade of lavender which blends well with other colors in the garden. This is a vigorous quick spreading variety, best of all the phlox for ground cover.

Each $.25 10-$2.00 100-$15.00

ENGLISH PRIMROSE
(Primula hybrids)

Splendid little plants for the rockery, the shady border or woodland path. The fragrant flowers vary from a clear, pale yellow to pleasing shades of yellow and maroon, and are borne on erect 6 inch stems in May and June. Also called English Cowslip. Prefers rich, well-drained soil with plenty of moisture.

Each $.50 10-$4.50 100-$40.00

PERSIAN OR PAINTED DAISY
(Pyrethrum roseum hybrids)

The single and double flowers with rich yellow centers vary from white or rose to deep red in May and June. The foliage is finely cut and ornamental. Particularly valuable for cutting. It grows 2 to 3 feet tall, is of easy culture, and thrives in sun or partial shade.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

GREAT AZURE SAGE
(Salvia azurea)

Produces many branching stems 3 to 4 feet tall studded with exquisite little flowers of pure sky-blue in late August or September. Exceedingly beautiful for the fall garden or in the perennial border.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

VIRGINIA SPIDERWORT
(Tradescantia virginiana)

This old garden favorite blossoms all summer, with small cup-shaped, deep violet-blue flowers. An all purpose plant with graceful and lasting foliage. A shapely plant which, in ordinary soils, can be left undisturbed for years.

Each $.30 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

GLOBEFLOWER
(Trollius europaeus)

Many blossoms like big yellow buttercups an inch across in May and sometimes again in August and September. Rosettes of handsome, deeply cut leaves 12 to 18 inches. A very handsome variety now in great favor with garden makers.

Each $.75 10-$6.00 100-$50.00

SAXIFRAGE TUNICFLOWER
(Tunica saxifraga)

A dainty and graceful plant for rock garden or border. Fine wiry leaves on slender stems, dotted with numerous tiny pink flowers all summer and fall. Grows 6 inches.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$15.00

VALERIAN
(Valeriana officinalis)

An old time favorite, with aromatic, finely divided foliage that is distinct and showy. Otherwise known as Hardy Garden Heliotrope. The pinkish-lavender or rose-tinted flowers come in June or July and have a delightful odor of heliotrope. An interesting plant for the background of the spring garden.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

WOOLLY SPEEDWELL
(Veronica incana)

A white woolly-leaved perennial of rich appearance either in or out of bloom. Bears numerous blue flowers on stems a foot or less tall, from late June to August. A very useful plant for the rocky and effective massed for contrast, or for edging the border.

Each $.35 10-$3.00 100-$18.00

CLUMP SPEEDWELL
(Veronica longifolia subsessilis)

By far the finest of the Speedwells. Very decorative and quite permanent. One of the handsomest of all blue flowering plants. The flowered spikes are long, slightly curving and completely studded with brilliant deep blue blossoms from July to September. Good for cutting. Grows about 2 feet. Splendid in the flower garden or border.

Each $.35 10-$3.00 100-$25.00

SPIKE SPEEDWELL
(Veronica spicata)

Similar to Clump Speedwell but of smaller habit, more graceful and better foliaged. The long spikes of soft violet-blue flowers, curving at the tips are borne in June and July. Blooms longer if not allowed to seed.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

JERSEY GEM
(Viola cornuta Jersey Gem)

A recent introduction in Tufted Pansies. See Novelties listed on page 2. Absolutely hardy and vigorous. Flowers continuously from May until frost. Blossoms large violet-blue, fragrant. Ideal for edging. 6 inches tall.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$20.00

STONECROP
(Sedum)

The Sedums are admirable, succulent rock garden plants which form low mats. Very hardy and tolerant of exposed situations and poor soil. We offer three of the best varieties.

GOLDMOSS
(Sedum acre)

The name is indicative of its appearance when in bloom. Fresh green foliage about 1 to 2 inches high topped with starchy yellow blossoms in June and July. The most successful ground cover on thin gravelly soil. It is much used for rockeries, stone walls and filling in the crevices of flagstone paths, terraces or steps.

Each $.30 10-$2.20 100-$15.00

SIEBOLD STONECROP
(Sedum sieboldi)

A charming little rock plant with broad glaucous leaves, margined with pink and prettily arranged in whorls of three along the short stems. It forms an attractive clump of green foliage distinctly different from the other Sedums. Excellent for edging or rock work. 6 inches tall. The flowers appear late in August or September at the tip of each stem and are bright rose-pink.

Each $.30 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

SHOWY STONECROP
(Sedum spectabile brilliant)

An improved erect variety which grows about a foot tall. Numerous thick succulent gray-green leaves are particularly handsome for contrast with other fine perennials such as the Daylilies, Dropwort or Meadowrue. Large showy flower heads of brightest rose in September. Indispensable for good fall bloom at this season of the year. 1 to 2 feet tall.

Each $.30 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

ROOF HOUSELEEK
(Sempervivum tectorum)

A most curious and unusual plant which should be in every rock garden. Its chief beauty is in the flat rosettes of thick evergreen leaves tipped with reddish brown. Flowers are pale red, borne on stems a foot tall in June. Thrives in cracks, crevices and dry soil.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

THRIFT
(Statice armeria)

Dwarf perennial forming thick evergreen tufts of pretty narrow leaves. Very attractive for edging or for rock gardens. Many showy pink flowers during May and June.

Each $.30 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

STOKESIA

(Stokesia laevis)

Often called Cornflower Aster. One of the most charming, hardy native plants. Grows 18 to 24 inches tall. Handsome lavender-blue flowers measuring from 3 to 5 inches across are borne freely from June until late October. Easy to grow in any open sunny position. Lovely for picking.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$18.00

MAIDENHAIR MEADOWRUE

(Thalictrum minus adiantifolium)
The graceful foliage, resembling Maidenhair Fern, is beautiful until November. Delicate little creamy white flowers are borne in June. A pretty plant of medium height for the rock garden or border. Endures shade. Grows 1 to 2 feet tall. Foliage is much used in vases with cut flowers.

Each $.40 10-$3.50 100-$25.00

CRIMSON THYME

(Thymus serpyllum coccineus)
Tiny dark-green fragrant leaves which form a low creeping mat on the ground. Red flowers in June and July. Valuable for rockeries and plantings between stones or steps.

Each $.50 10-$4.00 100-$35.00

WOOLLY THYME

(Thymus serpyllum lanuginosus)
Like Crimson Thyme but has silver-gray foliage and rose colored flowers. Unique among rock garden plants in its graceful manner of hanging over and veiling stones.

Each $.35 10-$2.50 100-$20.00

The improved orange scarlet Japanese Tiger Lily, spotted with black. Taller, healthier and with larger flowers than others of this type. Succeeds anywhere without special attention and is very easy to grow. An old favorite.
Each $.35 10-$3.00 100-$25.00

Climbing Roses

UNIVERSALLY loved, the climbing roses are most valuable for decorative purposes. They bloom profusely and may be trained over walls or fences, on posts, trellises, arbors and porches. This list represents a wide variety of colors and types, and includes both new and old varieties of merit. All are 2-year, field-grown plants.

$.75 each $6.00 for 10

American Pillar
(Illustrated at left)
Beautiful large flowers of brilliant pink, with white eye and yellow stamens in the center, are borne in huge clusters. Vigorous growth and glossy, lasting foliage. The most popular single-flowering climber. Superb over low fences and stone walls or trained as a pillar rose on an upright post.

Baltimore Belle
An old favorite full of associations with lovely old colonial gardens, still admired by many. The flowers are cream colored often flushed with light pink. A tall rapid grower.

Climbing American Beauty
One of the best climbing roses. Free blooming and a vigorous grower. Extremely beautiful, large buds and flowers of bright rosy crimson. Good foliage. Fragrant flowers come very early.

Dorothy Perkins
Clear shell pink flowers borne profusely in lovely sprays. Much prized for cutting. Very hardy. The most popular pink rambler. Extensively planted on banks, slopes, on trellis, porch and arbor.

Dr. W. Van Fleet
The very choicest pink climber. Large flowers of exquisite pale pink, prettily formed like tea roses, each on a fine long stem, are ideal for cutting. Handsome, glossy foliage.

Emily Gray
The most satisfactory of the yellow climbers. Large golden yellow blooms and glossy foliage.

Excelsa
Similar to Dorothy Perkins with crimson flowers. Late, vigorous.

Le Reve
A hardy, unfading yellow climber. Quite new. Large semi-double blossoms. A strong grower.

Memorial Rose
The old-fashioned trailing Wichuriana Rose. An excellent ground cover. Glossy leaves and clusters of starry white flowers. Late.

Paul's Scarlet Climber
(Illustrated at right)

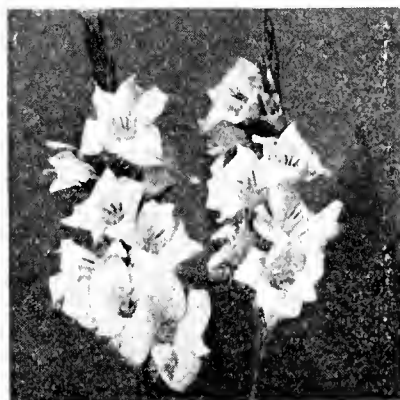

Large, semi-double, well-shaped blooms of unusually vivid scarlet are produced freely in clusters. Strong and hardy. Flowers last well when cut. For best results train it upright on post or wall as a pillar rose.

Silver Moon
A very vigorous climber, with perfectly clean glossy foliage and large semi-double flowers of brilliant pure white with yellow stamens. The most popular white climber yet introduced. Far superior and more desirable than the old rambler type.

Purity
Long sprays of profuse white flowers of the rambler type. Excellent foliage and a long blooming season.

White Dorothy Perkins
Considered the best white rambler rose. Similar to Dorothy Perkins with the same profusion of bloom and vigorous growth.

Miss Helen Franklin $1.00 $8.00
Pure white with violet markings. Ruffled. Vigorous and tall with strong straight spikes.

Mrs. Dr. Norton $1.75 $12.50
Silvery white, edges tinted pink, lower petals blotched with yellow and rose.

Mrs. Frank Pendleton $1.00 $8.00
Salmon pink. Penciled with rose. Early. Fine straight spike.

Mrs. Watt $1.00 $6.50
American Beauty red. Rich blue-green foliage.

Myrtle $1.50 $11.00
Shell pink, penciled with rose. Early. Fine straight spike.

Orange Glory $1.00 $8.00
Rich orange with exquisite lighter throat.

Peace $.75 $6.00
Large flowers of good form on heavy straight spike. Beautiful white with pale lilac.

Prince of Wales $1.00 $8.00
Beautiful light salmon with orange shadings. Very early. Excellent for cutting.

1910 Rose $1.00 $8.00
Pure rose pink. Narrow white lines through center of petals. A fine variety.

Salmon Beauty $1.75 $13.00
Deep salmon with salmon-yellow throat. A very large flower.

War $1.75 $13.50
Deep blood red. Very tall and conspicuous.

Wilbrinck $.80 $6.50
Lovely flesh pink. Creamy blotch on lower petals. Handsome.

Yellow Hammer $1.00 $8.00
Pure creamy yellow. Tiny red markings to throat.

Sweet Autumn Clematis.

Little-Tree Vines

EVERY home, be it large or small, has room for a vine or two to cover a back porch or trellis, climb over an old stone wall or up a brick chimney, festoon a pergola or enclose a tennis court or garden. The varieties offered below are hardy and handsome.

Each blossom a glowing gem of deep purple, fully three inches across — the Jackman Clematis.

New! Try one of these exquisitely colored, large flowering Clematis, described below.

Chinese Blue Wisteria.

VIRGINIA CREEPER (Ampelopsis quinquefolia)

A thoroughly satisfactory, rapid-growing and vigorous vine. Foliage delicate green all summer, changes to brilliant reds in autumn. Blue berries on bright coral stems in the fall. Also known as American Woodbine. A great favorite for covering stone walls.

Grade	Each	10	100
6 year	$.50	$ 3.50	$ 30.00

DUTCHMAN'S PIPE (Aristolochia sipho)

The large, handsome, heart-shaped leaves of this hardy vine form a dense, impenetrable mass of clean foliage and make it excellent for screening porches, lattice, or boundary fences. Once established, it makes an extraordinarily rapid growth.

Grade	Each	10	100
2 year	$ 1.00	$ 9.00	$ 75.00
3 year	1.25	11.00	100.00

LARGE FLOWERING CLEMATIS (Clematis hybrids)

For brilliant, large blooms in midsummer, no other plants equal these hybrid clematis. Of graceful habit and prettily foliaged, their appearance is unusually attractive.

They require a certain amount of care and proper conditions to secure satisfactory results—rich, deep soil, perfect drainage and abundance of water. Most important of all, they should be planted with the crowns fully three inches below the surface, and given winter protection.

Grade	Each	10
2 year	$ 1.50	$ 12.50

Jackmani

Flowers broad and velvety, of deep violet purple. Very popular.

Edouard Andre

Large, crimson flower. A persistent bloomer.

Madam Baron Veillard

Bright carmine pink.

SWEET AUTUMN CLEMATIS (Clematis paniculata)

A graceful and popular vine with glossy foliage and most abundant fragrant white flowers in fall.

Grade	Each	10
3 year	$.60	$ 5.00

VIRGIN'S BOWER (Clematis virginiana)

A hardy variety with white flowers. Especially good for walls and fences.

Grade	Each	10
3 year	$.60	$ 5.00

HALL JAPANESE HONEYSUCKLE (Lonicera japonica halleana)

The foliage of this vigorous, fast growing vine is most attractive and the yellow-white flowers are deliciously fragrant.

Grade	Each	10
3 year	$.50	$ 4.00

CHINESE MATRIMONY VINE (Lycium chinense)

Avigorous vine. Foliage large and bright green. Pale purple flowers are followed by showy orange and scarlet fruits.

Grade	Each	10
2 year	$.50	$ 4.00

CHINESE BLUE WISTERIA (Wisteria sinensis)

This hardy long-lived vine is a favorite. Gorgeous clusters of purple-blue flowers.

Grade	Each	10
5 year	$ 1.00	$ 9.00

WHITE WISTERIA (Wisteria sinensis alba)

Very similar to Chinese Blue Wisteria, but has striking white flowers.

Grade	Each	10
4 year	$ 1.00	$ 9.00

ENGELMANN CREEPER (Ampelopsis quinquefolia engelmanni)

A fast-growing vine with very handsome foliage, similar to Virginia Creeper. Clings to brick or stone. Especially useful for verandas, arbors and fences, or climbing over brick walls and chimneys. Perfectly hardy and should be used more.

Grade	Each	10	100
3 year	$.60	$ 4.50	$ 40.00

TRUMPET CREEPER (Bignonia radicans)

Interesting finely-divided foliage and striking orange-scarlet tubular flowers with flaring mouths, make this an exceedingly striking vine. Blooms in midsummer and is very attractive to humming birds. A strong, free grower, requiring plenty of room.

Grade	Each	10
3 year	$.60	$ 5.00

AMERICAN BITTERSWEET (Celastrus scandens)

A handsome, clean-foliaged vine with glossy leaves jeweled with showy fruit in the fall. The brilliant orange-red berries are much prized for winter decoration, and persist long after the foliage has dropped. A rampant grower, in any ordinary soil. Unexcelled for porch or pergola, for stone walls and fences.

Grade	Each	10	100
5 year	$ 1.00	$ 7.50	$ 60.00

JAPANESE CREEPER (Ampelopsis tricuspidata)

This is the much loved Boston Ivy extensively planted for covering brick buildings, walls, etc. A very vigorous grower, with beautiful glossy foliage which turns the most gorgeous scarlet, red and crimson in the fall. Clings by stem rootlets to any surface making a charming green blanket.

Grade	Each	10	100
2 year	$.60	$ 5.00	$ 45.00

Little-Tree Grass Seed

Insures a Splendid Lawn Almost Anywhere

Velvet Lawn Mixture

Those who want the very finest lawn that can be made, will choose this mixture, made from the choicest varieties obtainable. Only the highest quality, plump, selected seed is used, and the mixture contains no weeds, chaff or inert matter. It produces, in comparatively short time, a surpassingly beautiful lawn of deep green, closely matted turf, which is both permanent and satisfactory wherever the soil is in good condition.

1 lb.	$.75	5 lbs.	$ 3.50
10 lbs.	6.50	25 lbs.	15.00
	100 lbs.		$ 55.00

LITTLE-TREE mixtures are the products of years of ripe experience and experimentation in the production of fine lawns for every purpose. Through scientific study of the various grasses from the standpoint of virility, smoothness, color, adaptability to various soils and conditions, and precise blending, we have achieved as near perfect mixtures as human skill, knowledge and experience can make possible.

When one considers the time and effort spent in grading and preparing the soil for a fine lawn, it is evident that a cheap mixture is poor economy and apt to prove most expensive in the end. The prices below are very reasonable for mixtures of highest quality. We recommend them to you unreservedly, sure that you will obtain maximum satisfaction. One pound will plant 200 square feet.

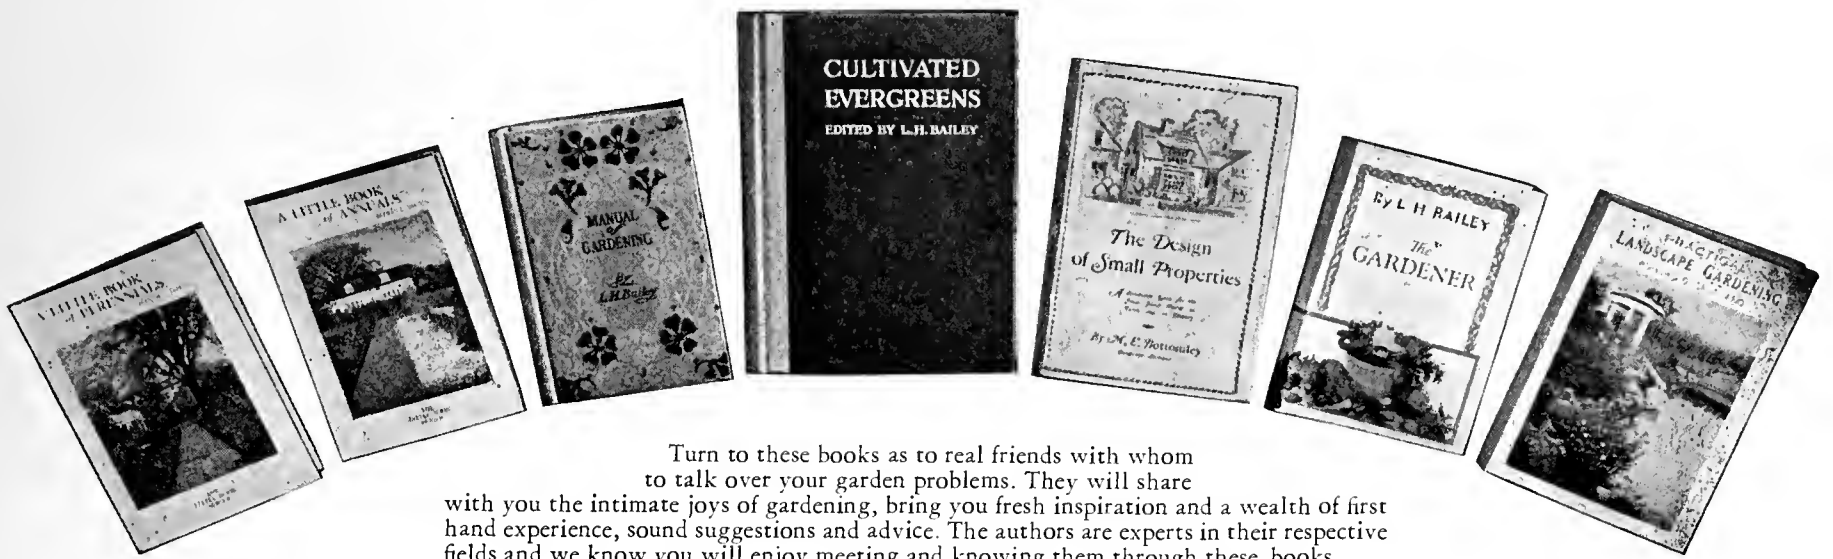

Sheep manure, bonemeal and other lawn fertilizers are on page 47.

Shady Spot Mixture

This is a "sure fire" mixture for shady spots where the grass looks sick and sparse—except in the deepest shade as under evergreens, where no grass can possibly survive. It gives a beautiful lawn where other cheaper mixtures fail. Plump, vigorous seeds are scientifically selected to give satisfactory results in fairly dense shade. In damp shady spots where the soil sometimes becomes sour, apply Little-Tree agricultural lime from time to time.

No. 61

Bluebird House

Flicker House

WELCOME the birds to your garden and encourage them to make it their home. They will delight you with their joy of living, their constant motion, flashing colors and sweet songs. If you but furnish them with comfortable quarters, a quiet place to build or bathe or find their food, they will soon become your friends and you will look for them each day. On this page are described a number of bird houses and bird baths which have proved popular with our feathered guests, as well as ornamental features of the garden. Place them cunningly in secluded spots free from interruption and safe from marauding cats and the birds will soon find them.

Every garden should also have some of the fruiting trees and shrubs, for birds are particularly fond of such delicacies as they afford. Among these are the Hawthorns and Flowering Crabs, the Dogwoods and Viburnums, the Prairie Rose, American Bittersweet and Red Cedar, described elsewhere in this catalogue.

Repose in the Garden

No. 112

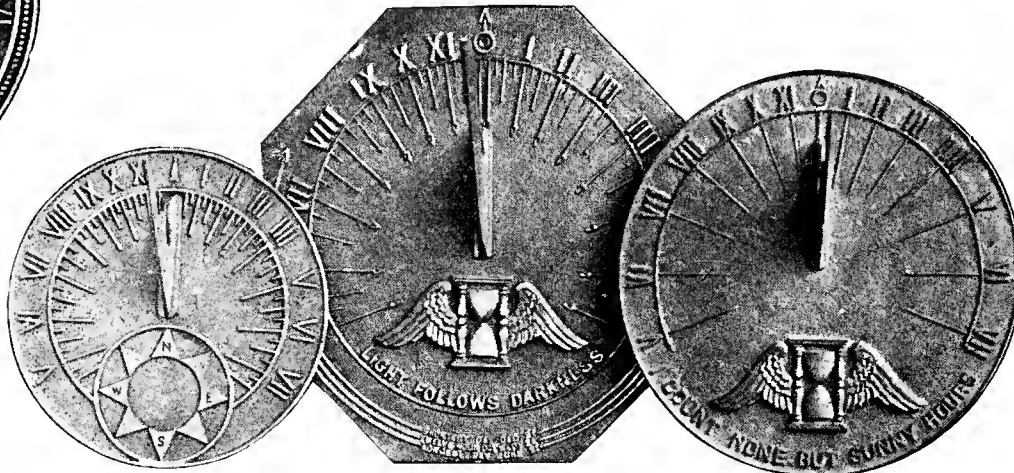

Sundial No. 112

This is a remarkably handsome dial made of U. S. Standard Bronze and practically indestructible. Note the figure of Father Time and the motto. This style has been very popular with our friends and makes a most acceptable gift for garden lovers. Diameter 11 inches. Use with pedestal No. 291 shown below or fasten upon a stone post.

Price $14.50 each Postage $3.35

BEAUTIFUL are the quiet hours in a garden in which we find refreshment and repose. Nothing disturbs the tranquility but the drowsy hum of bees and in this peaceful atmosphere our recreation of mind and body is complete.

The charming old device, the sundial, is fitting here, for it will mark the slow passage of the hours as silently and surely as the sun himself. A gazing globe, too, to reflect the colorful beauty of the flowers, green leaves and sky, gives a touch of mysterious romance; and on a bench near by we find a place to sit and meditate in a world apart.

Granulated Peat Moss

A soil conditioner, fertilizer, and mulch of the highest value. Clean and rich in humus. Better than manure in absorbing and retaining moisture, freedom from odor and weeds or fungus, and ease of application. It keeps a heavy, wet soil porous, and retains moisture in dry, sandy soil.

Ideal on all coniferous and broad-leaved evergreens. As a mulch 2 to 4 inches deep, it not only helps maintain the soil acidity which these plants require, but protects the shallow roots from heat and drought. We recommend it highly for this purpose and use it on all our sample beds and newly planted evergreens.

Peat moss is also an excellent mulch for trees and shrubs as it keeps down weed growth and insures a neat, tidy looking, healthy soil. Indispensable on window boxes and potted evergreens.

We offer fine quality imported moss, compressed in bales of approximately 150 pounds (varies with atmospheric conditions). One bale covers 240 square feet one inch deep.

Little-Tree Food for Trees

Made for the trees on lawns, along streets and in the parks or other situations where soil fertility is not maintained by natural methods.

Proper feeding is one of the best methods of combating tree diseases. We use this fertilizer in professional work. Directions on each package. A large tree with 50 foot spread requires approximately 60 pounds.

Little-Tree

"No-Weeds" Lawn Fertilizer

Saves labor and discourages the growth of common lawn weeds. The elements in it are toxic to dandelion, crab grass, plantain and the like but very beneficial to grass. Use this and best seed to make thick, velvety dark-green lawns. Excellent for use on old lawns. Five pounds is sufficient for one application for 125 to 150 square feet.
